

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
Lansing, April 30, 1885. }

To the Legislature:

Permit me to again call your attention to the matter of a "Pardoning Board."

Since my inaugural, and after further investigation, I have changed my views somewhat, and now recommend that a board consisting of four, two from each of the dominant political parties, with such compensation as will secure able talent, be appointed as an advisory board, whose duty it shall be to investigate the cases of such convicts in our State Prison and House of Correction as may apply, and report to the Executive with such recommendations as in their judgment seems best, either as to pardons, commutations, or non-action. After a full examination of each case is made, the recommendations so made to be acted upon by the Executive as he in his judgment shall deem best.

It is a notorious fact that sentences of criminals from different circuits, in the State for the same offense are widely different and frequently so from the same court.

There are now in Jackson State Prison, I am informed, two men serving from the same county, one of them for the term of eight years for stealing an old horse and wagon, which he claims he took for a labor debt of about twenty dollars, and which he sold for that amount; and the other for a term of ten years for stealing near one hundred thousand dollars.

Very many cases are reported which if at all as described should be investigated, both the offense and term of sentence, and also as to character of the offender, previous to the commission of the crime, and his conduct in prison since being sentenced.

This work is so great that it is simply impossible for the Executive to attend to it thoroughly and properly, and beside, at least two lawyers ought to be upon the commission.

I am sure the State of Michigan ought and will see justice done to even this class.

Senate bill No. 32 can, I think, be so amended as to serve the purpose, if you deem it wise to act in accordance with these recommendations.

This is substantially the same as a law now in force in Massachusetts.

RUSSELL A. ALGER, Governor.

On motion of Mr. Hubbell,

The message was referred to the committee on the judiciary.

The President also announced the following:

EXECUTIVE OFFICE, MICHIGAN, }

As a large number of the veterans from our State will attend this reunion, I sincerely hope a concurrent resolution may pass authorizing the Quartermaster General to comply with Governor Robie's request.

RUSSELL A. ALGER.

STATE OF MAINE,

"SIR—The National reunion of the veterans of the G. A. R., in the city of Portland, in June next, will bring together from all parts of the Union, thousands of the soldiers of the recent war. It will be impossible for the State of Maine to provide a sufficient number of army tents to shelter so many. I am therefore compelled to ask your assistance with many thanks, if practicable to grant it. Will you be so kind as to give us the loan of the tents belonging to the State of Michigan for the use of our guests of the G. A. R., provided the State of Maine will be responsible for the care, damage, and expense of transportation, and bear the expense of an agent you may designate to accompany them. A favorable and early action will be highly appreciated and your generosity duly considered.

Yours with great respect, secretary shall cause notice thereof to be given to the person so elected. When a vacancy in the office of trustee shall exist, it shall be filled by election at the same time and in the same manner as aforesaid, for the residue of the vacant term : Provided, That the voter shall express upon his ballot that the person voted for is to fill vacancy.

No. 710. By Mr. Hawley: Memorial of John Greusel, and 6 others, of Springwells, in favor of annexation to Detroit;

No. 711. By the same: Petition of O. W. Wight, M. D., and 23 other physicians, in favor of annexing a part of Springwells to Detroit.

On motion of Mr. Hawley,

The following are the petitions:

Memorial of the citizens of Springwells.

To the Legislature of the State of Michigan:

A large number of the citizens of Springwells have, for the last two months, been using all legitimate means in our power, in way of petitions, public meetings, etc., to demonstrate to your respective bodies, that a large per cent of the citizens of Springwells desire a portion of this township annexed to the city of Detroit. That we may obtain from the city of Detroit improvements in the way of water supply, fire department, police regulation, a better school system, a system of drainage, sanitary regulations, all of which are, we believe, essential and necessary to the existence of a densely populated community. We believe the people of Detroit have suffered from the many unsanitary conditions, and the unrestrained lawlessness, and are in constant danger of a large fire originating in the wooden structures of Springwells.

The city of Detroit have, through the common council and board of councilmen, asked for a portion of Springwells. Ninety-five per cent of the people of Springwells believe the limits should be extended to Junction avenue, and knowing the above to be candid statements of facts we believe if the Legislature should refuse to extend the limits as asked for the people of Detroit would suffer a great injustice and the sixteen thousand people of Springwells irreparable wrong.

John Greusel, Jr.,
Geo. W. Wesch,
Ferdinand Amos,

T. J. Taffe,
Fred. Cribbin,

Gustav A. Berg,
Ely Unvah.

To the Honorable, the Legislature of the State of Michigan :

We, the undersigned physicians residing in the city of Detroit, do most respectfully petition your honorable bodies to annex the densely populated portion of Springwells to the city of Detroit. We believe it is detrimental and dangerous to the public health of the citizens of Detroit and Springwells for this locality to longer remain without sanitary regulations, a sufficient supply of pure water, and as soon as possible, a system of sewerage. We believe the many unsanitary conditions of Springwells, are the source of disease to the inhabitants of Detroit and Springwells.

No. 712. By Mr. Hawley : Memorial of Dr. H. F. Lyster, in regard to butterine and oleomargarine ;

On motion of Mr. Hawley,

The memorial was referred to the committee on public health, and ordered printed in the Journal.

DETROIT, May 8, 1885.

Hon. T. D. Hawley, Senator, etc., etc.:

DEAR SIR—Having no pecuniary interest but in the cause of public health, I signed a petition in favor of permitting the manufacture of oleomargarine in this State.

I did this for the reason that I am opposed to any legislation which will diminish the consumption of fat as an article of diet among the people.

It is generally known that the disease known as pulmonary consumption stands at the head of all the causes of death in every country, and that it is due, in many cases to mal-nutrition, and to mal-assimilation of food, and other things being equal, it prevails among those persons who are not well fed, and particularly where a minimum of fatty substances enters into the articles of diet.

It is also well known that milk, butter and cod liver oil are constantly urged upon all debilitated persons as a class, and that every effort is made to have those who are not strong fortify themselves with those articles of diet which are easily assimilable, and which supply a large proportion of fat and oil to the system.

The quality of milk is improved by increasing the proportion of cream, which is fat in a finely divided state. The quality of meat is improved by fattening the cattle which are to furnish it.

Oleomargarine, when of good quality, is in itself unobjectionable as an article of diet on the score of healthfulness, and it affords fat in a form easy of digestion, and supplements other articles of diet in which fat is deficient.

It seems quite incomprehensible to me that when hundreds of barrels of fish-oil are brought into the State, at great expense, for very general consumption, and when every effort is being made to fatten hogs and cattle and to improve the richness of the milk of cows, by improving the breeds and by careful housing and feeding, that any legislation should be attempted looking toward the limitation of wholesome fats and oils equally valuable in every way, and decidedly more palatable than the common article of butter as usually bought and sold.

Very respectfully,

HENRY F. LYSTER.

No. 713. By Mr. Hawley: Memorial of a committee of citizens of Springwells in regard to annexation.

On motion of Mr. Hawley,

The memorial was referred to the committee on cities and villages and printed in the Journal.

The following is the memorial:

SPRINGWELLS, MICHIGAN, May 12, 1885.

To the Members of the Legislature and House of Representatives at Lansing:

YOUR HONORABLE BODY—We, as a committee representing the majority of the taxpayers and freeholders of the township of Springwells, have been sent here by the voice of the people to impress upon your minds the necessity of annexation, a question that has been agitated, and occupied your time previous to our coming; but the question being a very important one, and one that interests every man owning any property in the township, we have been earnestly requested to continue the fight till the end. Now, gentlemen, we, as a committee, are well aware that we have what seems to be strong opposition in this matter, some of our number having been here before in the same cause. We know, too, that the voice of the people has been sadly misrepresented, and by whom? by a few of the principal land speculators in the township,—men that have good reasons for opposing this bill, so far as their own personal or financial affairs are concerned; but we ask your honorable body if this is the way the question has been placed before you by the opposite party. We are unanimous in our decision that it is not,—for the simple reason that the voice of the people is not with them. What they have done they have taken it upon themselves to do, and for their own personal interests, regardless of the sufferings of the multitude. Now we appeal to your honorable body to see that the end of justice is meted out in this action—to see that the rights of peaceful, law-abiding citizens are not taken away or trifled with by a few moneyed men—for if such is the case it will only tend to keep back progress and industry, which is the life and subsistence of the poor man as well as the rich, and a necessity which the present state of affairs presents to us, for there are hundreds of poor laboring men in our township that have been gathered in by the advertisements and inducements of those selfsame men that are opposing this bill contrary to the will of the people. When they are here they stay many times because they never get enough more than a living to go with. Most of those men are employed by the Michigan Car Shops, an institution that is run only when the managers see fit to do it, notwithstanding the number of men they throw out of work when their shops are shut down, but those poor men are put off with the understanding that they may resume work in a few days, which, by the way, oftener happens to be weeks instead of days, and so it happens at intervals all through the summer, and in the fall business is practically abandoned altogether; the result is those poor men and their families are generally thrown on the mercy of the people, and the township has to support them. Now in the city of Detroit there is anywhere from 100 to 300 of this class of men employed regularly, and when it comes fall their homes are comfortably provided for and they march up and pay their taxes and look smiling, rejoiced to think they are getting along so well, while the poor man depending upon the monopoly of Springwells wonders how he is going to pay his taxes, but generally contrives to get enough together to do it, and afterwards receives three to five times as much in poor orders to keep his family from starving until such time as he can get work again. Furthermore, in consequence of the present state of affairs this class of men are rising up every day and organizing; labor meetings are being held, and all sorts of threats are being made against monopolies which, in time, may end seriously, and with a possible destruction of life and property. We think, gentlemen, the present state of affairs are rather critical from this standpoint. Now, to annex that portion of the township that we will ask of your honorable body only means assistance to this class in a special way, as it will be the means of furnishing employment to a great many in making the improvements annexation would necessitate, and the protection we are sadly in need of, such as the laying of water pipes, the building of sewers and sidewalks, besides the public buildings that would become a necessity, such as school-houses, fire engine houses, police stations, etc. Now, the opposite party have taken the precaution to contravene our statements at the different meetings since this bill commenced to be agitated, and in a way very unbecoming to that of a good citizen, and all because they could see quite plain that the majority was against them and in favor of annexation. About the only support that they have in opposing this bill comes from the few men that happen to be in their employ, and a possible relative that feels as if he would be out of order to contradict them, while all the time in his heart he would rather be annexed. Those men and their associates have tried hard to make it appear to the laboring class that to be annexed to the city meant to lose their little homes by taxation; they have talked to them as if all the improvements would come from taxation, and the poor man would have to pay it, not forgetting to remark to them something like this: "I am rich and can stand it; you will have to suffer." Notwithstanding all of this they have failed to secure the support we have at our backs; to submit the question to a popular vote and we would have an overwhelming majority in our favor.

Now, gentlemen, with those plain statements of facts before you, it remains with your honorable body to say whether we are to remain in this same critical condition for the next six years to come; and 'tis plain, too, that the same men that oppose the bill now will do it again,—they have done it before. To favor their opposition means to leave us at the mercy of the flames, as it were, for every fire that occurs in Springwells, the damage amounts to that of fifty in the city, in the average way where they have protection. Now in conclusion I must say that those moneyed men tell us to offset this fact that we can build engine houses, buy engines, dig wells, organize fire departments, and protect ourselves; but they don't say, we will buy the engines, or build you a house, or even offer the land, and even if they did we would not be more than half protected then. But take them into the city limits, and such men as Daniel Scotten and a few others, instead of paying two or three thousand dollars a year taxes, will be obliged to pay ten, a fact they are not ignorant of. And why? Because their farms, that are all divided and subdivided, would be more apt to be assessed as lots for their actual cash value under city government, while in the township they are passed off for just what they look like.

Now to conclude, we would ask your honorable body to think favorably of Livernois avenue, or if in your opinion it is asking too much, we will be willing to submit to Grand Junction avenue, or 150 west, as a compromise. The common council of Detroit favor the first named.

Respectfully yours.

MASON, May 6, 1885.

To the Honorable Senate of the State of Michigan:

We, the members of the Lansing District of the M. E. Church of the Michigan Conference, hereby petition your honorable body as follows:

Believing the death penalty for deliberate and wilful murder to be accordant with true religious principles, and having the most unequivocal scriptural sanction, when truly interpreted; also that it is in harmony with a stable and progressive Christian civilization; and believing it is demonstrated by clear statistical science that where the penalty is judicially, firmly, and unerringly executed, it is not only a deterrent from such murders as are intentional and malicious, but also from all brutal crimes against lives and persons, and that as a penalty it gives character and vigor to the administration of all criminal law.

And being impressed with the number and frequency of atrocious murders which have alarmingly increased in a vastly greater proportion than the population of the State since its abolition; and as a State we have been conspicuous as abolishing the penalty, and in thus encouraging the sentiment adverse to the certainty of executing the penalty in those States where it still remains as a legal enactment; and which non-infliction practically destroys its deterring force, so that our land was horrified during the year 1884 with upwards of 3,300 brutal murders.

And there is now pending before your Senate a bill known as the Ford bill, which has passed the honorable, the House of Representatives, by a large majority, for the restoration of the said penalty to its rightful place as the ultimate penalty for the final crime.

We, the ministers above described, in session assembled, in Mason, on this sixth day of May, 1885, petition your body to make the said bill a law, believing that it will be for the security of life and the reputation of our State.

We certify to the above.

President, JAMES HAMILTON.

Secretary, A. E. GRAIG.

Leave of absence was granted to Mr. Sherwood for the day.

On motion of Mr. Belknap,

Leave of absence was granted to Mr. Hubbell at will for the week on account of illness.

PRESENTATION.

Mr. Belknap said that in view of the fact that the Senate were to-day to consider the important and weighty subject of oleomargarine and the restoration of capital punishment, and particularly as the day without was one of the most pleasant, it was a matter of very great satisfaction to himself to be the medium of others to extend to one a token of their love and regard, and that the Lieutenant Governor, in accepting the staff presented to him by the janitors and messengers boys, would, as he walked through the downward path of life, being supported by said staff, remember the love and regard that prompted said gift.

Lieutenant Governor Buttars, being taken completely by surprise, responded briefly, and, with expressions of much love for the donors, and a brief mention of the pleasant relations with all, accepted the gift.

RUSSELL A. ALGER, Governor.

The message was laid on the table.

The President also announced the following:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, }
Lansing, May 14, 1885. }

To the President of the Senate:

SIR—I am instructed by the House to transmit the following bill:

House bill No. 18 (File No. 83), entitled

A bill to secure the minority of stockholders, in corporations organized under general laws, the power of electing a representative membership in boards of directors;

Which passed the House March 18, 1885, as will appear by message of that date, and which passed the Senate April 24, 1885, as appears by the message from the Senate dated April 28, and which was returned to the House by the Governor without his approval May 5, his objections thereto being as follows:

EXECUTIVE OFFICE, }
Lansing, May 5, 1885. }

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives:

I herewith return to you without my approval and signature,

House bill No. 18, being File No. 83], entitled

"A bill to secure the minority of stockholders in corporations organized under the general laws, the power of electing a representative membership in boards of directors,"

For the following reasons: I do not think the provisions of any existing laws in this State are open to a construction which gives to the State the right to so amend laws for the organization of corporations as to change the rights of those who have associated under them as between themselves. Corporations so formed should of course be controlled by the authority from which they emanate as against any acts of wrong doing, but for no other. For instance, it seems to me it would be entirely competent for the Legislature to enact laws permitting stockholders at all times to attend meetings of directors, and compel directors to notify them of such meetings before they are to be held; also that all books of corporations should be open at all times for stockholders to examine. This could not be construed as taking away any rights; it might prevent any wrong being done, but it is not taking away a man's rights to prevent him from wrong doing.

Existing corporations have been formed by permission of the State, giving them rights to regulate their election of officers, and the conduct of their business generally, and the right being so given, of course the State is not a party interested any further, and I do not believe that it has the power to take rights so given away, nor to transfer from one man his rights to another who does not possess that right.

In the formation of corporations the State is a party to the agreement, and it cannot violate it, in my opinion, any more than the individuals forming the corporations. To attempt such an act would be an invasion upon vested rights, and a bad example for a great State to set before its citizens, and, in my judgment, would work a great injury to its credit as well.

Much has been said about the existence of minority representation laws in the States of Illinois, Pennsylvania, New York, West Virginia, Nebraska, and Missouri, and of their successful and satisfactory operation.

I have caused the laws on this subject in these States to be quite thoroughly examined, and have been unable to find a single instance where the law, when enacted, applied to corporations then in existence.

In the State of Illinois laws of 1871-2, page 296, reads as follows:

"SECTION 1. Be it enacted," etc., "that corporations may be formed in the manner provided by this act," etc.

"SECTION 3. In all elections for directors or managers of corporations organized under this act," etc., showing conclusively that this law applied only to corporations organized after its enactment.

Pennsylvania laws of 1874, page 73, act No. 32, "Providing for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations," reads:

"SECTION 1. Be it enacted, that corporations may be formed under the provisions of this act by the voluntary association of five or more persons for the purposes and in the manner mentioned herein, and when so formed each of them by virtue of its existence as such shall have the following powers, unless otherwise especially provided."

"SEC. 10. In all elections of directors, managers, or trustees of any corporations created under the provisions of this statute or accepting its provisions, each member or stockholder may cast his vote," etc.

In the State of New York laws of 1875, chapter 611, I find an act to provide for the organization and regulation of certain business corporations.

"SECTION 1. Corporations may be organized under the provisions of this act for carrying on any lawful business," etc.

Section 26 provides for electing directors, and allows, by the words "shall be entitled to," stockholders to cumulate their votes. In all the States mentioned, so far as I have been able to learn, corporations or companies who elect directors by cumulative votes are those who were organized after the laws were created under which they were organized.

So far as the justice or injustice of this principle is concerned, I cannot see that we have any right to consider it. The question is simply whether the State has or has not the legal right to take from a corporation privileges heretofore granted, unless the corporation violates some provision of its charter or of the law.

Could I make it consistent with my views in the matter I should most cheerfully approve this act.

I believe thoroughly in the principle, and unless this shall become a law, notwithstanding these objections, I shall in my retiring message strongly urge that a law similar to this be enacted, but to affect only corporations organized under it, and then people who associate themselves together will have due notice of the existence of the law under which they are organized.

RUSSELL A. ALGER.

And now to inform the Senate that the said bill has passed the House of Representatives, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding.

ing, by a two-thirds majority vote of all the members elect, and in which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully asked.

Very respectfully,

DANIEL L. CROSSMAN,

Clerk of the House of Representatives.

Mr. Hawley moved to reconsider the vote by which the Senate passed the bill,

Which motion prevailed.

The question being on the passage of the bill, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor,

REPORT OF SELECT COMMITTEES.

The President pro tem. announced the following:

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

Your joint committee appointed under Senate joint resolution, File No. 16, to investigate and report as to the feasibility of establishing one or more homes for disabled soldiers, sailors, and marines in this State, respectfully report as follows:

The committee have visited Wyandotte, Dearborn, Mt. Clemens, Port Huron, Saginaw, Bay Springs, Big Rapids, Muskegon, Grand Rapids, Battle Creek, Cassopolis, St. Joseph, Holland, Ionia, Owosso, Hillsdale and Jackson.

At most of these places the committee have been shown desirable sites; and at most of the places the citizens have offered to donate a certain quantity of land, all of which will more fully appear in the written propositions which your committee have received. We have also received certain propositions from individuals and cities for sites, which the committee were unable to visit.

As to the necessity for a soldiers' home in Michigan, your committee are unanimously of the opinion that such necessity is great. During the past winter there have been accommodated in the poor-houses of this State, 461 veterans of the late war, for a longer or shorter period, and about one hundred have been cared for by the different posts of the Grand Army of the Republic. These men cannot be taken care of in national homes established by the United States, for two reasons: 1st. The national homes are already filled to their full capacity; and 2nd. The great majority of disabled soldiers and sailors in Michigan are not eligible to accommodation in the national homes, for the reason that their disabilities are not the result of any injury received during the war. The duty of the State of Michigan to care for their distressed and disabled soldiers is an imperative one. Every feeling of gratitude and humanity appeals to the State to take immediate steps to cherish and protect our disabled soldiers and sailors in a comfortable manner, not as public paupers, but as the honored and respected wards of the State.

Everywhere the committee have been, the sentiment of the people has been unanimous in favor of the establishment of a soldiers' home. Your committee have been attended at each place by officials and prominent citizens, and in every instance resolutions have been passed urging the State to take immediate action toward providing for our disabled veterans.

In regard to the feasibility of the Dearborn arsenal property as a location for a soldiers' home, your committee would respectfully report that it is a matter of conjecture whether the State could procure a donation of the property from the general government, but the probabilities are that it may be obtained; nevertheless, it would be some months before it could be positively known whether the United States government would donate the property to the State. Even if the property could be procured, its present condition would demand the outlay of a large sum of money to put it in a suitable condition for the accommodation of soldiers. In view of these considerations, and of the fact that equally as good sites have been offered free in other parts of the State, and of the necessity for immediate action, your committee believe that the inducements for the location of the home at Dearborn are not as great as at some other localities.

JAMES HUESTON,
Chairman Senate Committee.
JOHN NORTHWOOD,
Chairman House Committee.

Report accepted and committee discharged.

On motion of Mr. Pulver,

Leave of absence was granted to himself for the day on account of sickness.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM STATE OFFICERS.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, }
LANSING, May 18, 1885. }

To the Honorable, the Legislature of the State of Michigan:

The Board of State Auditors, to whom was referred, by concurrent resolution, approved April 2, 1885, the matter of lighting the Capitol and Capitol grounds, would respectfully report that they have had the matter under careful consideration, and from the best information obtainable in the somewhat limited time allowed for this report, they find that the probable cost of the installation of an electric light plant of sufficient size for properly lighting the Capitol and grounds would be from $20,000 to $31,000, depending somewhat on the quality of the light and the thoroughness of its distribution, and that the expense of maintaining and operating the said plant would be about $550 per year.

It must be borne in mind that these estimates are only approximately correct, as the Board felt warranted in asking only for estimates and not bids.

The amount paid for gas for the years 1883 and 1884 was $10,069.57.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

H. A. CONANT,

E. H. BUTLER,

M. S. NEWELL,

Board of State Auditors.

The communication was referred to the committees on State capitol and public buildings and appropriations and finance jointly.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, }
Lansing, May, 18, 1885. }

To the Honorable, the Legislature of the State of Michigan:

The Board of State Auditors, to whom was referred, by concurrent resolution, approved April 2, 1885, the matter of lighting the capitol and capitol grounds, would respectfully report that they have had the matter under careful consideration, and from the best information obtainable in the somewhat limited time allowed for this report, they find that the probable cost of the installation of an electric light plant of sufficient size for properly lighting the capitol and grounds would be from $20,000 to $31,000, depending somewhat on the quality of the light, and the thoroughness of its distribution, and that the expense of maintaining and operating the said plant would be about $550 per year.

It must be borne in mind that these estimates are only approximately correct, as the Board felt warranted in asking only for estimates, and not bids.

The amount paid for gas for the years 1883 and 1884 was $10,069.57.

No. 747. By Mr. Stephenson: Remonstrance of Business Men's Association of Ishpeming, Marquette county, against the passage of House bill, file No. 374, commonly known as the "Shaft bill;"

On motion of Mr. Stephenson,

The remonstrance was referred to the committee on agricultural interests and ordered printed in the Journal.

The following is the remonstrance:

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan:

The following is a copy of a resolution unanimously adopted by the "Business Men's Association" of Ishpeming, at their annual meeting on May 27, 1885.

Resolved, That the "Business Men's Association" of Ishpeming, Marquette county, Michigan, unanimously disapprove of and hereby protest against the passage of "House bill file No. 374," entitled a bill to provide adequate and efficient means of securing the safety and health of persons employed in mines in the State of Michigan for the following reasons:

First, There is no evil to be remedied which this bill would reach, as evidenced by the facts that in all the history of mining in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan no accident has ever occurred from the crushing in or closing up of any shaft. There is no fire damp to be provided against in the copper and iron mines of Lake Superior; no demand exists among miners for the passage of this or any other similar bill.

Second, The passage of this act would prevent the working of a very large proportion of the mines of the Upper Peninsula which owing to depth and quality of ore, or position of the ore, could not be worked to a profit if it were necessary to sink two or more shafts to each deposit, especially in the present depressed condition of the iron and copper market, and it would render the mines of this State unable to compete on equal terms with those situated in States not burdened with similar restrictions;

Third, The added and unnecessary cost would be a nearly prohibitory tax on all new enterprises, where, as is always the case in mining operations, the chance of finding a remunerative body of ore, after great cost has been entailed, is at best uncertain;

Fourth, All the business of the county is entirely dependent on the success of the mines, and the closing of any large proportion of them would be absolutely ruinous to all other kinds of business in this section.

Resolved, That the secretary of this association be directed to forward copies of this resolution to the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan.

C. R. ELY, Secretary.

On motion of Mr. Manwaring,

By a vote of two-thirds of all the Senators elect, the bill was ordered to take immediate effect.

By the committee on military affairs:

The committee on military affairs of the Senate, to whom was referred the following preamble and resolution:

WHEREAS, The late Governor of this State, Hon. Josiah W. Begole, stated in his outgoing message that he had, through one Friend Palmer, of Detroit, collected a certain sum of money from the United States on certain claims of the State against the United States, but did not inform the Legislature what disposition he made of said money so received; and,

WHEREAS, It has been alleged that said money was paid by said Josiah W. Begole into the hands of the Quartermaster General of this State; therefore,

Resolved, That the committee on military affairs be, and they are hereby instructed to investigate the transaction and report to the Senate the amount of money, if any, so received from the general government by the said Josiah W. Begole, as Governor of this State, through said Palmer, through what office and from what cause such indebtedness to this State by the United States arose, what arrangement was made with said Palmer for commissions; by what authority the same was made, and said commission, if any, was paid to said Palmer; what disposition he made of such money; and to what officer of this State, if to any, the same was paid; and what disposition was made of such money by said officer; by what authority, if any, the Governor paid over said money to said officer; and that said committee have power to send for persons and papers, and to administer oaths to witnesses.

Respectfully report that they have had the same under consideration, and during such investigation as they were empowered and authorized by said resolution, caused to be subpoenaed witnesses, and sent for papers and documents for the better investigation of the matters referred to in said resolution. Your committee also, for the purpose of expediting said investigation, employed a stenographer, and used every other reasonable means for the purpose of making an intelligent and complete inquisition of the matter.

As to the amount of money received from the general government we find there is no dispute, being, as agreed by all, forty-two thousand three hundred and forty-five dollars and ninety-five cents ($42,345.95). In order to ascertain through what office and from what cause such indebtedness to this State arose, we communicated with the Treasury Department at Washington and received from the Third Auditor the following information:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, THIRD AUDITOR'S OFFICE, }
Washington, D. C., April 17, 1885.

Hon. C. B. Henry, Committee on Claims, Lansing, Mich.:

SIR—In reply to your letter of the 11th inst., relative to the claim of the State of Michigan, on which the sum of $42,345.95 was allowed and sent to Governor J. W. Begole, and in answer to your several inquiries I would state that the claim of the State was for ordnance and ordnance stores issued to the Michigan volunteers by the Quartermaster General of the State, which ordnance the State had received before the rebellion from the Ordnance Department, U. S. A., on her quota for arms under acts of Congress. Also claim for recruiting expenses, and a further claim for "interest and discount" paid by the State on moneys borrowed for war purposes. The following statement shows the amount of each:

Ordnance and ordnance stores.....	$42,585 95
Recruiting expenses (M. R. North).....	1,500 00
Interest and discount.....	320,488 32
Total amount of 9th installment.....	$364,574 27

This is termed the 9th installment, as the State had previously filed eight installments of claims. The ninth installment was filed in this office by Friend Palmer as the agent of the Governor, and also filed his commission from Governor Josiah W. Begole to act as his agent in the presentation and prosecution of the claims of the State (excepting the 8th installment).

Upon the evidence filed by the agent, and on the report of the Chief of Ordnance, U. S. A., a settlement was made, and on the ordnance account the sum of $42,345.95 was allowed and reported to the Hon. Second Comptroller for his revision and confirmation, May 10, 1884, which was returned by him to this office, May 17, 1884, confirming the allowance made by this office of $42,345.95.

The item of $1,500 for recruiting was suspended for further evidence to substantiate the claim, and the claim for "interest and discount," of $320,488.32, was disallowed, there being no statute of Congress authorizing the payment of "interest" and "discount" to states on account of advances made by them.

Under date of April 30, 1883, Friend Palmer, as agent of the State, requested to be informed whether the act of Congress, approved June 14, 1878, limited the time for presentation of State claims to June 14, 1883.

Hon. E. W. Keightley, Auditor, then informed him, under date of May 3, 1883, "That no decision has yet been made upon the point involved in your inquiry. Prudence would seem to demand that everything which can be presented prior to the 14th proximo should be so filed."

Subsequent to the 14th of June, 1883, the Hon. Second Comptroller has made a decision that the limiting clause in the act of June 14, 1878, does not apply to the presentation of claims, but to the time for reporting to Congress by the Hon. Secretary of the Treasury.

A copy of the papers and vouchers relating to this 9th installment was sent to the Quartermaster General of the State of Michigan, who will, I doubt not, furnish your committee with copies on application.

I am, very respectfully,

A. M. GANGEWER,
Acting Auditor.

Many witnesses have been subpoenaed at the suggestion of the different members of said committee, among the first of whom was Josiah W. Begole, ex-Governor of the State, whose testimony, given at different times, exhibits a lack of memory and want of consistency, to use no severer terms, that would almost justify your committee in giving to his testimony no further credence or consideration than if his inconsistencies had been intentional misstatements. At his own instance he was permitted to and did make a "general statement," as he termed it, relative to his connection with the contract for and the subsequent collection of the $42,345.95, and his disposition thereof; reading and enlarging upon that portion of his message relative to the same. Upon examination in detail Governor Begole seemed to have lost all recollection even of the parties with whom the transaction was made, believing, as he so states in his message, that the contract which he entered into in writing with Friend Palmer, of Detroit, for the collection of this sum was made in person, and that Mr. Palmer visited him at Lansing solely for that purpose. As a matter of undisputed fact, the contract was made and consummated solely by, and through one Joslyn, an attorney for Mr. Palmer, and the frankness with which Governor Begole admits of not having advised or counseled with the Attorney General of the State, nor with any other attorney of prominence or State officer, save the Secretary of State, in itself leads your committee to believe in the present sincerity of the Governor's testimony.

From his own statements, together with those of Secretary Conant, Friend Palmer, and his attorney, Mr. Joslyn, and from the statement of the Secretary of the Board of State Auditors, we are enabled, with a considerable degree of certainty, to gather the facts relative to his extraordinary action while acting as chief executive of the State. Sometime during the early part of the year 1883, Joslyn, then attorney for Friend Palmer, of Detroit, was engaged at Lansing in various enterprises, among which was the caring for the interests of Mr. Palmer; and from time to time he visited Governor Begole and conversed with him relative to the collection of certain claims due the State of Michigan from the United States, and informed him that his client, Mr. Palmer, of Detroit, was the sole and absolute possessor of certain information which alone would lead to the collection of a large sum of money due the State of Michigan from the general government. During the course of these conversations Mr. Joslyn, a comparative stranger to the Governor, and unknown to him professionally as well as individually, informed the Governor that according to a recent act of Congress action must be taken within a limited time on the part of the State or the claim would lapse, and referred him to the act of Congress, approved June 14, 1878; whereupon Governor Begole consulted only his private Secretary and the Secretary of State, and entered into a written contract as follows:

STATE OF MICHIGAN, }
EXECUTIVE CHAMBER, }
Lansing, Michigan. }

I hereby certify that the appointment of Friend Palmer, as State agent for the State of Michigan, for the collection of claims against the United States, was based upon his application to make such collections, and that it is the agreement and understanding that the said Palmer shall receive for his services under such appointment a commission of 25 per cent of whatever he may collect, he to bear his own expenses, and to be paid only when collections made by him are credited to the State of Michigan by the treasury department at Washington.

Dated June 1, 1883.

JOSIAH W. BEGOLE, Governor.

Whereupon, and from Mr. Palmer's testimony, we learn that he, Palmer, shortly thereafter filed with the proper officer in Washington formal notice of the existence of the claim due the State of Michigan. Up to this time Mr. Palmer had not seen, communicated with, or in any manner had any personal dealing with Governor Begole, and had acted solely through his attorney, Mr. Joslyn. Some time early in the year 1884 Friend Palmer, for the first time, visited Governor Begole at his home at Flint, when Mr. Palmer informs us that he met the Governor, and there and then, as was his purpose, made arrangements for the manner in which he should be paid under the contract set forth. Thereafter he went to Washington and was partially instrumental in having the claim of $42,345.92 allowed the State of Michigan. Before the sum had been received by Mr. Palmer he, through Governor Begole, presented a bill to the Board of State Auditors for his commission for the collection of said claim, which bill is as follows:

Liber 12. Record of Board of Auditors, page 778. Dated June 25, 1884.

State of Michigan to Friend Palmer, Dr.

1884, May 20. By my commission on $42,345.95, amount that I had credited to the State of Michigan on the books of the U. S. Treasury, 25 per cent on $42,345.95 is according to contract with J. W. Begole.....$10,586 50

The above was for ordnance and ordnance stores, the property of the State before the war, and were taken out of the State by the U. S. and not returned.

Approved.

JOSIAH W. BEGOLE,
Governor.

On the presentation to the board of the same it was laid upon the table, and subsequently disallowed and returned to Mr. Palmer. In the latter part of July, of the same year, it is conceded by all that Governor Begole received two checks on the Treasurer of the United States, the sum of which amounted to $42,345.95; one for three-quarters of this sum, the other for the balance. The last named check, as Governor of the State of Michigan, under and by virtue of the contract he had before entered into, he handed Friend Palmer, as his commission for collecting this sum, and the check for $31,759.45 he gave to Willam Shakespeare, then Quartermaster General of the State of Michigan.

WHEREAS, It was but a matter of inquiry for your committee to ascertain the actions of Governor Begole, Friend Palmer, and the other parties in this transaction, and the disposition made by them of the money collected, it is by no means so trifling a matter to ascertain as by your resolution you require them to do, the authority by which Josiah W. Begole, as Governor of this State entered into the contract set forth with Mr. Palmer, or by what authority the extraordinary commission was paid, or by what authority the $31,759.45 was paid to William Shakespeare, Quartermaster General of the State of Michigan.

As a matter of law, and as a matter of fact, your committee conclude that the claim of $42,345.95 due the State of Michigan from the general government would not have lapsed as was represented in the message of the late retiring Governor; and it would have been a matter of but a few moments' investigation on the part of the legal State official, the Attorney General, to ascertain this fact. Had he not been accessible (which is not likely) any attorney, with but limited legal experience, ought not to have hesitated in forming this conclusion. Even if Governor Begole had been advised by the proper person that the claim would lapse, as he states, he had no right or authority to enter into any contract with Friend Palmer, or any other person, for the collection of the claim as Governor of the State of Michigan, and when he executed the contract with Mr. Palmer, agreeing upon the exorbitant commission of 25 per cent of the amount collected, he exceeded his authority as Governor and all discretion as a citizen.

Your committee are induced to conclude that if Mr. Palmer was solely the possessor of information which might lead to the collection of this claim, that he obtained that information while acting as Quartermaster General of this State some years ago, or while acting as an employé of the State, through the files and documents belonging and pertaining to that office, many of which have since unaccountably disappeared. As to the source of his information, Mr. Palmer, perhaps, wisely declined to impart to your committee.

Prior to receiving the checks above mentioned, your committee, from their investigations, would be led to believe that Governor Begole intended, on the receipt of said money, to place the same where it unquestionably belonged—in the hands of the State Treasurer. His explanation for taking upon himself the office of the Legislature and appropriating over $30,000 to a creature of the State, the Military Department, is so utterly void of any color of right, authority or plausible excuse, that your committee are compelled to hesitate before charging the same to the already overburdened pretexts, ignorance, want of individualism, and blunders of the late Executive. That what remained after Mr. Palmer had received his bounteous fee of over $10,000 for doing what any member of Congress could and ought to have done for nothing, should have been placed by the Governor in the State Treasury, there can be no question. As Governor of the State, in this particular, Josiah W. Begole grossly, wantonly, and inexcusably exceeded all statutory and discretionary powers when he placed this money at the disposal of the Quartermaster General.

After the closest scrutiny we find but one person who clearly advises him that it is right and proper for him to pay the money into the lap of the Quartermaster General, and in that person we find General William Shakespeare. A copy of the letter conveying this friendly advice is to be found in his letter book and reads as follows:—

July 2, 1884.

MY DEAR GOVERNOR:—I understand that the claims of this State against the general government for arms furnished during the war, have been allowed, and attached to one of the deficiency bills, and amounts to about forty-three thousand dollars. That money belongs to this department, and should be paid to me instead of the State Treasurer. I trust, Governor, you will pardon me for calling your attention to this matter, but we need money so bad for new uniforms, and believing that if it should go into the general fund we would never see it, except by act of the Legislature, when the check comes I trust you will not forget this letter.

I am, Governor, your obedient servant,

WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE, Q. M. G.

Let it suffice to add, that when the check came the Governor did not forget the letter, and did not forget to inform the soldiers in the fall of 1884 that he did not forget, notwithstanding the fact it necessitated "the forgetting" of the rudiments of common prudence, the forgetting that it was a misappropriation of the people's money, the violation of a sacred trust, and the contamination of the highest State office by this nefarious act.

While for his part we find that General Shakespeare after receiving the check and making his reprehensible purchase did not forget after expending every dollar of available funds for material, and causing the same to be stored away in the State armory as a fitting souvenir of his eventful administration, to forget to manufacture or cause to be manufactured, or make any arrangements for the manufactory of a single uniform, but instead thereof, after becoming the possessor of the "check," he conveniently forgets his letter of July 9, 1884, that he so studiously admonishes his commander in chief not to forget.

Gov. Begole would have as much right and authority to have placed this money in the hands of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, in the hands of the Commissioner of Labor, in the hands of the Insurance Commissioner, or in the hands of his partner in business as to have placed it where he did. And the only question relative to the disposition on the part of the Governor of this $31,759.45 that is left for your committee to consider is, whether an action at law cannot, and ought not properly to be instituted against the late Governor for the recovery of this money so misappropriated by him. While perhaps it is not becoming on the part of your committee to advise or counsel the Legislature, they feel that they would have done less than their duty had they not given this feature of their investigation a portion of their attention, and the one fact alone deters them from recommending that they believe to be true, that an action can properly be brought upon the part of the people of the State of Michigan against Josiah W. Begole, now citizen, not Governor, for the recovery of the amount so misappropriated by him, and that fact is that your committee believe, no matter how grossly others may have acted from mercenary motives in this transaction, that Josiah W. Begole was in no way peculiarly benefited by the same, and this notwithstanding their loss to determine the motives which actuated his most extraordinary conduct.

Your committee have been called upon by the resolution to ascertain what disposition was made of the money by William Shakespeare. A task has been placed upon them too difficult to be satisfactorily performed. Shortly after the $31,759.45 was given over to the custody of Gen. Shakespeare, we learn that the State Military Board was called to pass their opinion upon the expediency of providing the State troops with better clothing, and so far as your committee have been able to learn left the matter of purchase entirely in the hands of Gen. Shakespeare. He shortly thereafter purchased from the firm of M. Israel & Co., of Kalamazoo, a large amount of cloths, trimmings, and blankets, amounting to over $20,000, as appears by the vouchers on file in the Quartermaster General's office. Your committee took much time and trouble to learn if possible, the reason for this extraordinary expenditure and censurable purchase, and in doing so examined ex-Quartermaster General Shakespeare, the present Quartermaster General, his deputy, clerk and other employes, together with the Military Board, the representative of the firm of M. Israel & Co., and experts in cloth from Detroit, Michigan. Mr. Joseph Speyer, who represented the firm of M. Israel & Co., in his characteristic testimony, informed your committee that a member of his firm in New York had forwarded, at the request of Gen. Shakespeare, samples of military cloth to the department with the prices appended thereto, which were shortly thereafter acceded to by Mr. Shakespeare, not questioning the quality or price. Every effort was made on the part of your committee to learn what other firms, if any, had been written to or given opportunity to supply said cloths, but are forced to the conclusion that the above named firm alone was consulted in this important purchase. Neither did your committee spare any pains to ascertain with a reasonable degree of certainty the value of the cloths, trimmings, and blankets, as compared with the price that was paid for them according to the vouchers above mentioned. And to aid them in this line of their investigation they first made futile effort to learn the prices paid by M. Israel & Co. for said goods. Mr. Speyer, admitting that he was at the head of the firm, and an expert in cloth, and the man with whom the bargain was made, claimed, when being questioned on this point, to have no knowledge whatever of what the goods cost their firm; and on being asked if it was possible for him to obtain the price, on the strength of his reply in the affirmative, the committee repeatedly notified him thereafter to appear before them in obedience to the command of his subpoena and furnish them with the required information, which he has studiously refrained from doing. In consequence of this strange action, on the part of M. Israel & Co., your committee were obliged to and did call — Hitchcock, of the firm of Hitchcock, Esselstyn & Co., and Ransom W. Gillis, of the firm of Edsall, Moore & Co., of Detroit, experts, to testify as to the value thereof. After hearing the testimony of these men your committee no longer wondered at the non-appearance of the representatives of the firm of M. Israel & Co., as by the testimony, to which your committee gave credence, it was thoroughly established that in the purported purchase of over $20,000 worth of military cloths, blankets, and trimmings the Quartermaster General had paid at least $6,000 or $7,000 more for the goods than the same quantity and quality of goods could have been purchased at the same time from other parties. That William Shakespeare, as an officer of the State of Michigan, was guilty of willful and corrupt misfeasance, collusion, and robbery, or that he has been guilty of negligence, indifference, and stupidity in being made the weak dupe of a wily merchant in this unprecedented purchase, your committee are forced to infer. While we are unable to further explain the disposition of this money, as a matter of law, and from better authority than that which prompted the late Governor to make his hasty and novel contract, we believe there is sufficient ground for a civil action to be instituted against the late incumbent of the office of Quartermaster-General of the State for the recovery at least of the excess paid for said goods over their actual market value. Your committee, not being unanimous, think that the firm which has derived such munificent profits, spoken of above, might be made a party to the suit.

In conclusion your committee are disposed to add that the statutes of this State are clear and explicit in dictating the scope of the authority vested in her State officers; and while it may be disagreeable to the State to have a committee of the Legislature censuring the actions of an ex-Governor, we have concluded that the provocation in this instance has not only been sufficient to warrant it, but has been of such a character as to imperatively demand it. The Governor, in the widest sense, represents the State, and can perform duties by reasons of his relations that no other official can perform. He is the embodiment of its highest civil power; he is the officer to whom the United States Treasurer always transmits funds coming from the Government to the State, and being so vested with this power, he had the double duty to perform, that of handling the people's money wisely and well, and of maintaining the dignity of the office which he held. And as a custodian, temporarily, of this money, he could in no way more grossly violate the people's rights, and impugn and lower the dignity of the position that he held than to wrongly misappropriate and dispose of the same.

REPORT OF SELECT COMMITTEE.

Your committee (Senator Shoemaker and Representative Wright dissenting) on military affairs, to whom was referred the following preamble and resolution:

WHEREAS, It is claimed in various quarters that grave irregularities and extravagance existed in the Quartermaster General's office during the administration of Governor Josiah W. Begole;

AND WHEREAS, It is desirable for the public good and intelligent legislation relative to the military affairs of this State that a thorough investigation be made into the affairs and conduct of said office during said administration; therefore,

Resolved, That the committee on military affairs of the Senate be and are hereby instructed to make such investigation and report the result thereof to the Senate, and that in the performance of said duty said committee be empowered to send for persons and papers and administer oaths to and examine witnesses.

Respectfully report that in pursuance of a resolution passed by the House of Representatives a committee was appointed for the purpose of making a similar investigation. Your committee by resolution respectfully requested said committee, so appointed by the House, to act with the Senate committee in conducting such investigation, which request was accepted, and the committee so appointed by the House acted in conjunction with your committee; and herewith submit their joint report (Senator Shoemaker and Representative Wright dissenting), as the result of such investigation.

The following is the report:

Your committee to whom was referred the investigation of the State military department under the following resolution of March 13th:

Resolved, That a committee, consisting of 3 members of the House of Representatives, be appointed by the Speaker to make investigation of the expenditure of the State military fund during the last two years, and to report the result of such investigation back to the House at the earliest practicable time;

And your committee having acted jointly with the committee on military affairs of the Senate, authorized to act with the House committee, do hereby respectfully submit their joint report of such investigation:

From the testimony of Quartermaster General George A. Hart, who was the first witness examined by your committee, it was ascertained that on the 22d day of January, 1885, he took charge of the affairs of the office of Quartermaster General, and has since had the custody and control of the records and archives of the office, at which time a complete inventory was taken of all the effects of the office and property properly connected with and controlled by the officers of said office. In the course of his examination the book belonging to the office commonly called the "Account current book" was offered in evidence, which book evidenced the fact that the current accounts since January, 1875, pertaining to the office appeared therein. It also showed that in addition to all moneys appropriated for the use of the military department, $31,759.45 cents, appeared as credits under the following entry for the month of July, 1884: "July 30, received from Governor Josiah W. Begole, check No. F 33,678, on the treasury of the United States, $31,759.45."

A careful review of all books, papers, records, letters, and documents in any way connected with said office conclusively demonstrated the fact that this was the only entry made or kept pertaining to the receipt of this money. It further appeared from the testimony of Gen. Hart that on January 23, 1885, on final settlement with the office, General Shakespeare turned over to his successor the sum of $1,380.44, which sum constituted all moneys received by General Hart from his predecessor.

Aside from the above testimony Gen. Hart was of but little importance to your committee in enabling them to arrive at the alleged irregularities and extravagancies indulged in on the part of his predecessor, but by the aid of files, papers, and records, created during the administration of General Shakespeare, and the glaring abuses of all discretionary power, and the surmounting of all constitutional and statutory rights, on the part of Gen. Shakespeare, as appears from the testimony in the hands of your committee, impels them to affirm the truthfulness embodied in your resolution of "irregularities and extravagancies" in the Quartermaster General's office during the administration of Josiah W. Begole.

For the purpose of better exhibiting the exact status of the financial affairs of this office at the time Gen. Shakespeare surrendered the same, your committee have prepared a table marked exhibit "B," which is included in the appendix to this report, in which will be found a full statement of the amounts appropriated and placed to the disposal of the military department, and the amounts expended and disposed of by the late Quartermaster General.

Exhibit "C" in appendix contains a statement of "extra pay" drawn by Gen. Shakespeare during his administration, together with a statement of his expenses.

We were enabled to ascertain by a long tedious examination of various witnesses, that during the entire administration of Gen. Shakespeare he had indulged in extravagances to an extent that warrants us in asserting that it bordered on the misappropriation of public funds placed in his hands and under his control, by virtue of his office, all of which might and probably would have passed with but little censure had not the large amount of $31,759.45, as admitted by him, been placed in his hands by Governor Begole to be disposed of as appears from his subsequent action, to the satisfaction of any caprice that might possess him. After receiving this large amount it appears from his testimony, and from the testimony of the State Military Board, that the matter of expending this sum for military cloths, trimmings, and blankets, was very cursorily discussed by the Quartermaster General and Military Board, resulting finally in leaving the disposition thereof exclusively in the hands and to the judgment of Gen. Shakespeare, which power as will appear, he exercised with a nonchalance equaled only by that indulged in by the Board in granting the power.

That General Shakespeare should have advertised and exercised every other expediency in his power for the purpose of receiving bids and offers from the various houses dealing in military goods, and in expending so large an amount of money is so far beyond question that it deserves no comment on the part of your committee. That he totally ignored a long line of established precedents, created by his predecessors, and made no effort whatsoever to secure prices and terms of other firms, is equally patent to your committee; that he was conversant with these precedents, and the fact that he could secure for the State a better and more profitable bargain by following these precedents is equally conclusive; but that instead thereof, in the smallest space of time, he accepted unconditionally, without question or counsel, the terms and prices appended to the lot of samples mailed him by the firm of M. Israel & Co., of Kalamazoo, and ordered therefrom the shipment of goods is, from the evidence, conclusively established. This fact in itself might remain unworthy of so severe a censure had the bargain and contract been worthy of commendation in any particular, by even the most ordinary business person; but the fact elicited by a close scrutiny confirms us in the belief that the goods purchased were of no particular standard, but had been purchased by the firm in auction lots from different parties and places, and were and are inferior in quality, and in many instances totally unfit for the purpose for which they were designed. We find that these goods came packed in boxes, not in their original packages, that the cloths claimed to be of the same grade and quality, were of various shades, quality, and shape; that the customary yard number, price, and quality marks were most mysteriously wanting; that in no instance, either upon the cloths, blankets, trimmings, or buttons appeared any mark or marks which could lead to the discovery of the manufacturer of the article, in consequence of which your committee were compelled to subpoena one Joseph Speyer, of the firm of M. Israel & Co., to testify his knowledge of the goods, and while asserting that the firm with which he was connected did an annual business of about $250,009; that a member of the firm was stationed in the city of New York for the sole purpose of making purchases; that he was the manager, and at the head of the institution in this State; that the prices for which the goods in question were sold were fair and reasonable for the time, and that the goods were actually worth the amount for which they had been sold, yet strangely confessed a total ignorance as to the cost to their firm of any of the articles so sold.

Admitting his ability to ascertain this fact, he was dismissed temporarily by your committee on the promise to return when wanted, and accommodate your committee with the price paid by his firm for the goods, which he claimed he he could ascertain by writing to his partner in the city of New York. He was afterwards requested by your committee, on a day certain, to appear and testify, rendered an excuse, and has never given your committee opportunity to learn the price paid by said firm for the goods.

In the absence of this testimony your committee were obliged to and did subpoena certain experts in these goods, from the city of Detroit, who testified, after a careful examination of all goods so purchased, as to their actual value at the time they were purchased; their testimony being of a character that warrants your committee in giving it full credence, notwithstanding the many instances being diametrically opposed and contradictory to the testimony given by Mr. Speyer. From the testimony so received, your committee are forced to conclude that the price paid by Gen. Shakespeare for said cloths, trimmings, and blankets was $6,000 or $7,000 in excess of what the same, or better goods could have been purchased from other parties in this State; and in order that the several members of the Legislature may be better enabled to know upon what premises we predicate such a large discrepancy, we refer them to exhibit "A" in the appendix hereunto annexed, in which is set forth in detail, the prices paid by Mr. Shakespeare, and the prices for which the same could have been purchased from other firms.

That this statement may not be considered lightly we might add that reliable and responsible parties, well known in this State, are ready and willing to execute a bond in the sum of $50,000, to supply this quantity or any other quantity of similar goods, at these prices, as will be found upon examination of the testimony.

It is not our purpose to cumber this report with recitals of testimony, yet our conclusions would probably be more readily conceived if we cite a few of the most potent factors in the testimony which actuate our conclusions. Among the purchases can be found from the vouchers now on file in the Quartermaster General's department, one item which reads as follows;

"500 prs. blankets, a $4.28, $2,140." Referring to Mr. Speyer's testimony, we find the following:

Question: "Did you take the order from Mr. Shakespeare for all of these goods?"

Answer: "I did."

Question: "And his order, so far as these blankets were concerned was for 500 single blankets?"

Answer: "Yes, sir, single blankets."

Question: "Not 500 pairs?"

Answer: "No, sir."

Question: "Did he agree at that time to pay you $4.28 a piece for each blanket?"

Answer: "Yes, sir."

Question: "Was that a reasonable price for these blankets?"

Answer: "That was the wholesale price."

Question: "I ask if it was reasonable?"

Answer: "Reasonable, of course."

Question: "The blankets in the market of that kind were being sold for that price?"

Answer: "Yes, sir."

Question: "How do the prices of blankets of that character correspond now with the prices last September?"

Answer: "Woolen goods are from 20 to 25 per cent cheaper to-day than they were then."

Referring to General Shakespeare's testimony, we find the following:

Question: "Had you determined upon 500 blankets or 500 pairs?"

Answer: "Five hundred blankets. We sat down and figured out that the funds we had would not purchase all that I asked for, and it was reduced."

This testimony in itself might lead us to believe that the entry as appears from the voucher was erroneous, were it not for three patent facts. First, that the price of $4.28 would have been a fair price for a pair of like blankets. Second, The resolution passed by the military board authorizing the purchase of these goods denoted unmistakably the purchase of 500 pairs of blankets, which resolution is marked exhibit "F" in the appendix, and third, the report of the Quartermaster General's department, as published, indicates in print the fact that 500 pairs of blankets were purchased.

Referring further to the testimony of General Shakespeare in regard to his efforts to procure samples from other parties we find the following;

Question: "You met Mr. Speyer in Kalamazoo?"

Answer: "Yes, sir."

Question: "And there made arrangements with him for the purchase of cloth for the amount that was received?"

Answer: "Yes sir."

Question: "Was anything said in regard to the price other than what was marked on the goods?"

Answer: "There was a very short conversation. I asked him if these were their best figures, or something like that, and he said they were, and I gave him the contract."

Question: "Did he take your order?"

Answer: "Yes, sir."

Question: "Did you write to any other firms in regard to the price?"

Answer: "Only as we sent for these samples. Personally I did not write a letter."

Question: "I mean through your clerk. Have you any remembrance now as to whom you sent to for these samples?"

Answer: "No, sir, I have not."

Question: "I understood you to say you thought you could ascertain from the letter book?"

Answer: "I have no doubt of it."

Further, on page 125 of his testimony is the following:

Question: "You had samples?"

Answer: "Yes, sir; had a large number of them."

Question: "Where had you received them from?"

Answer: "From different parties throughout the country. I did not write for any of them personally."

Question: "Who wrote for them?"

Answer: "Mr. Sherwood, my clerk."

Question: "Had he been writing previons to the issuing of this order, or the passing of this resolution?"

Answer: "I think he had."

Question: "Did you see any firm or individual in regard to the purchase of these goods yourself?"

Answer: "Yes, sir."

Question: "Who?"

Answer: "Do you mean besides M. Israel & Co.?"

Question: "Yes, sir."

Answer: "No, sir; I did not."

Question: "Had you seen the members of any other firm?"

Answer: "No, sir."

Question: "What other firms did you write to?"

Answer: "I have not the names of them; the letters must be on file here."

Question: "Had you samples with prices attached from other firms besides M. Israel & Co.?"

Answer: "Yes, sir."

Whereupon the letter-book containing all the letters written in the office of the Quartermaster General during the administration of Gen. Shakespeare was offered in evidence, and not a single letter, aside from the letters of M. Israel & Co., appeared therein, relative to the samples of military cloths, or the purchase thereof, in any form or shape. On pages 132 and 133 of Gen. Shakespeare's testimony he further reiterates that he did not personally write for any samples, nor designate to his clerk any particular person to write to. He had no personal knowledge as to whether any samples were received from any other establishments save that of M. Israel & Co. That Gen. Shakespeare exercised surprising indifference as to the cost of these goods, no better example can be had than the testimony of Mr. Speyer, on page 94, which is in substance as follows:

"The samples came in a package or letter by mail, with the prices attached.

Question: "Did General Shakespeare question the price at all?"

Answer: "No. We sent the goods here and they selected from these."

Question: "You afterwards saw him individually and took his order?"

Answer: "Yes, sir."

Question: "And he accepted the price just as they were marked?"

Answer: "Just exactly."

Question: "Didn't he try to get you to let him have them cheaper?"

Answer: "No, sir, he did not."

On page 96 Mr. Speyer further says:

Question: "Could you have afforded to have sold these goods for less than you did, and make a profit on them?"

Answer: "Perhaps we could; I don't know anything about that."

Question: "You made a profit?"

Answer: "Yes, sir."

Question: "You don't know how much that profit was?"

Answer: "No, sir."

Question: "On general principles, you know you would not sell anything without a profit?"

Answer: "It would be very foolish of us to do so."

Question: "If you could not have got the prices for these goods you did get you would have taken less?"

Answer: "I would not. I would have to write to Mr. Rosenbaum, and our profits might have been perhaps so small it would not have paid. I would have inquired of course. I would not let it go by of course."

On pages 161 and 162, Gen. Shakespeare's testimony, when taken in connection with the testimony of Edwin A. Tilley, freight cashier and book-keeper of the Detroit, Lansing & Northern and Michigan Central Railway Companies, found on pages 189 and 190, conclusively demonstrates another peculiar feature of the purchase of these goods, viz.: that the bills were presented to and audited by the Military Board and paid for by the Quartermaster General before a large portion of the goods had been received at Lansing and delivered to the Quartermaster General.

Your committee would willingly have concluded their work under your resolution at this point had they not, in looking over the records of Gen. Shakespeare's administration, been confronted with other glaring irregularities and extravagances, among which might be classed what that officer was pleased to record as money drawn by him for "extra services."

The statutes are clear and explicit as to the duties of Quartermaster-General of this State. Howell's Annotated Statutes, section 891, reads as follows: "He shall have charge of all public magazines, store-houses, arsenals, munitions of war, and other military property of the State, and account for the same on the first day of December of each year to the Commander-in-Chief." Section — reads as follows: "When orders are issued for a camp of instruction the Quartermaster General shall establish it according to the regulations, at the point designated in the orders of the Commander-in-Chief, and will furnish a sufficient number of suitable tents, and supply necessary camp equipage and camp utensils."

The Quartermaster General of this State, as your committee understand the law, is entitled to draw for his services the sum of $1,000 per year. When he accepted the office, he subscribed the constitutional oath, and gave bonds to faithfully perform the duties of his office. He undertook this obligation knowing that the compensation for his services was fixed. We find nothing that authorized this State officer to devote less than his whole time and attention to the duties of his office. We find nothing that authorized him to forego any duties of his office for the purpose of personal pecuniary advancement. And we find nothing that will warrant us in saying that General Shakespeare was entitled to receive any of said pay for "extra services." What his predecessors may have done and received creates a precedent only to be followed so far as his predecessor's actions conformed to the laws of the land; and they are equally censurable to the extent that they may have violated what we believe to be the true and literal spirit and intent of the statutes. We find that a large portion of the amount so received by him and paid to himself for "extra service" performed by himself, was for work connected with the State encampments, termed by the statutes "camps of instruction." While we are not disposed in any degree to hamper or obstruct the annual State encampments, yet we believe they should be conducted in such a manner as not to leave them open to the severe criticisms which they have of late been subjected to, and this being almost wholly confined to those holding the higher military positions. While General Shakespeare, in our judgment, had no right to receive other than his expenses and prescribed salary during the State encampments, the Governor being the commander-in-chief, had no right to receive, at the hands of the State, the use of carriages with which to convey himself and chosen friends in and about the encampments.

We find that large and exorbitant bills have been allowed and audited by the military board to pay for these conveniencies, while the officers and privates who bore the heat and burden of the day were allowed the small pittance prescribed by the statutes of the State.

As these bills in themselves illustrate better the extravagant spirit that seemed to pervade the office, we have in our appendix marked as Exhibit "D" copies of the vouchers as taken from the office of this department, together with vouchers for like expenditures for the encampment of 1882, a comparison of which affords an admirable index of the two administrations.

We also append hereto a statement marked exhibit "E," showing expenditures for encampment in 1882, under Gen. Church's administration, as compared with those of Gen. Shakespeare for the year 1884.

Contracts for the supply of ice for the State encampment, on the part of Quartermaster General Shakespeare, have been a fruitful subject of inquiry for your committee, and they are disposed to believe that Gen. Shakespeare repeated his censurable bargaining by failing to secure the same at the lowest possible price.

The expenditures for ice in 1882 and 1883 was necessarily large, as the Quartermasters were compelled to purchase, and the supply at Brighton being limited, purchases were made in Detroit and Lansing which, with the transportation and waste very materially increased the cost. In the spring of 1884 an ice house was erected by the late Quartermaster General Shakespeare and 180 tons of ice secured at a total cost for the ice of $413.27. In February, 1885, the same quantity of ice was put up and well secured at a total cost of $80, being a saving of $333.27.

Adjutant General Robertson was not unfrequently referred to by the Quartermaster General as authority for many of his acts. For 23 years he has served the State of Michigan as Adjutant General, during which time he has received for "extra" compensation $140. Not having been called upon to investigate the official conduct of General Robertson or other State officers aside from the one named in the resolution, we are not disposed to pass upon the justness or unjustness of his "extra" compensation. In no particular was the Quartermaster General justified in following the advice of his brother State officers when that advice was not sustained by the statutes.

Therefore, your committee would most respectfully submit that the result of their investigation has conclusively demonstrated the fact that "grave irregularities and extravagances" existed in the Quartermaster General's office during the administration of Josiah W. Begole, in that the Quartermaster General received from the hands of Josiah W. Begole, as Governor, a large sum of money, viz.: $1,759.45 that did not belong to the department, but was the legitimate property of the State; that General Shakespeare, as such Quartermaster General, on the strength of the receipt of such money, purchased from M. Israel & Co., of Kalamazoo, a large quantity of cloths, trimmings, and blankets of an inferior quality for the price paid, under a questionable contract, and paid for the same on the receipt of bills before the goods were received, and paying little or no attention to the goods or their usefulness after having paid for the same. Also in presenting his claims for and receiving "extra pay" for services, in the sum of about $1,000.00; in paying an exorbitant price for the purpose of procuring hacks and other conveyances for dignitaries of the State to grace the State encampments with their presence; in executing loose and indifferent contracts for the purchase of ice and the erection of ice houses; all of which your committee believe to be thoroughly impregnated with gross and irregular official conduct and unpardonable extravagance.

In view of the abuses exercised in the purchase of military cloths and supplies on the part of the late incumbent of the office of Quartermaster General, your committee can not too earnestly recommend and urge the passage of

House bill No. 198 (File No. 419) being

A BILL to amend sections 7, 25, and 34 of an act entitled "An act for the reorganization of the military forces of the State of Michigan," approved January 18, 1862, being sections 874, 892, and 901 of Howell's Annotated Statutes;

Which amendments provide:

"That no contract shall be let or entered into on behalf of the State exceeding the expenditure of three hundred dollars for military purposes authorized by this act until a notice calling for bids for such contracts shall have been published at least ten days in one or more newspapers to be designated by the State Military Board, except that in cases of emergency requiring immediate action the Commander-in-chief may, by a special order in writing, direct the Quartermaster General to make contracts without such advertisement;"

Another provision contained in said bill providing that "The State troops shall be composed of not exceeding thirty-six companies of infantry, beyond which in time of peace, there shall be no increase;"

Should be favorably considered by the Legislature in order to give consistency to

Senate bill No. 368 (File No. 240), entitled

A bill authorizing the enlisting, organization, equipping, and mustering into the State service, of military companies at Menominee, Muskegon, Detroit, Jackson, and Grand Rapids, in the State of Michigan, to be attached to the regiments of State troops,

The passage of which bill your committee most heartily recommend.

By conferring with the present State Military Board we are advised that they are indisposed to make any use of the large quantity of military cloths and trimmings purchased from M. Israel & Co. unless they receive special sanction from the Legislature, they contending a want of legal right on their part enabling them to act otherwise.

In consequence of which we would suggest that a concurrent resolution be passed authorizing them to appropriate for that purpose out of the military fund a sum sufficient to enable them on the best possible terms to cause all cloths, and trimmings, and supplies now on hand to be manufactured into such uniforms as in their judgment is most expedient.

Owing to the reduced condition of the military fund, and the apparent necessity for many new uniforms to be provided for various companies throughout the State, we would recommend that no encampment be held during the present year.

The following are the amendments made to the bill by the committee:

1. By substituting the following to stand as section 2 of chapter 2 of the bill:

SEC. 2. The board of supervisors of each organized county in this State shall, at their annual meeting in the year 1885, and every second year thereafter, appoint one county drain commissioner, whose term of office shall be two years, and shall begin on the first day of January following his appointment. All county drain commissioners holding office at the time this act takes effect, shall continue in office until the first day of January, 1886, and no longer. In case of a vacancy in the office of county drain commissioner occurring thirty days or more previous to a regular or special meeting of the board of supervisors, the same shall be filled within ten days, or as soon thereafter as practicable, by appointment by the county clerk and prosecuting attorney of the county, and the person so appointed shall hold his office until the next regular or special meeting of the board of supervisors, when the said board shall fill such vacancy: Provided, That if the board of supervisors of any county, upon a full consideration of the matter, shall deem it not advisable to appoint a county drain commissioner, the provisions of this section shall not be deemed mandatory, but such appointment may be made at any subsequent regular or special meeting of such board for any unexpired portion of the official term as fixed by this section. Every county drain commissioner shall, within ten days after his appointment, take, subscribe, and file with the county clerk the oath of office required by the constitution of this State, and shall also within the same time, execute and file with such clerk a bond to the county in the penal sum of three thousand dollars, with two or more sufficient sureties, to be approved by such clerk, conditioned upon the faithful discharge of the duties of his office. Also, by adding after the word "shall," in line 2, section 3, chapter 2, the words "except as provided in the last preceding section."

2. By substituting the following to stand as section 4 of chapter 2:

SEC. 4. The jurisdiction of the township drain commissioner shall be limited to drains lying wholly within, or the lands to be drained by which, or which will be liable to assessment for the construction thereof, lie wholly within his township. The county drain commissioner shall have jurisdiction over all drains or the lands to be drained by which, or which will be liable to assessment therefor, extend into more than one township in his county: Provided, That in any county where there is no county drain commissioner, application for any drain may be made to any township drain commissioner in which any portion of such drain, or the lands to be drained thereby, may lie, and such commissioner shall notify the commissioners of adjoining townships traversed by such drain, or in which lands may be situated that may be liable to be assessed for the construction thereof, and the commissioners of such townships shall act jointly on such application, and do all acts and things required by this act to be done by a single commissioner in the establishment and construction of drains, and in any county in which the office of county drain commissioner may have been or may be discontinued, the board of supervisors may assign the uncompleted work of such commissioner to any township drain commissioner of the same county, to be by him completed, and he shall complete the same and make the record thereof the same as the county drain commissioner should have done. Any township drain commissioner to whom the construction or care of any drain may be assigned by the board of supervisors under this section or under any other provision of this act, shall be deemed a special county drain commissioner for the purpose of such assignment.

3. By adding to section 6, chapter 2, the following: "Provided, That where the board of supervisors of any county shall provide the drain commissioner with an office at the county seat, the drain records shall be made and kept by such commissioner in his office."

4. SEC. 2. When application shall be made to any township drain commissioner for the establishment of any drain, and it shall appear that such commissioner is interested in the construction of such drain by reason of such drain traversing or benefiting any of his lands, so that the same may be liable to be assessed for the construction thereof, or that he is otherwise interested therein, then such commissioner, before taking any action on such application, shall transfer such application, and all papers relating thereto, to the county drain commissioner; but if there be no county drain commissioner the township board shall appoint a special drain commissioner to whom the application shall be transferred, and such application shall be heard and determined by such county or special drain commissioner, as the case may be, and the record of any drain so established shall be made in the office of the township clerk, as in other cases. Such transfer of the application, together with all other papers pertaining to such drain, shall also be made by such township drain commissioner whenever, by reason of his neglect or refusal to act, a majority of the signers of said application shall so demand, or whenever for any cause a majority of the persons liable to be assessed for the construction of such proposed drain shall so demand. A notice in writing to transfer such application to the county drain commissioner shall be served upon such township drain commissioner, and a copy of said notice shall at the same time be also served upon said county drain commissioner: Provided, That in cases where the township drain commissioner has taken action in the premises such notice shall be served at any time before the expiration of the twenty days allowed to expire after he has made his order of determination for the establishment of the drain, as provided in the next following section: And provided further, That if there be no county drain commissioner a special commissioner shall be appointed by the township board as herein above provided.

7. By substituting the following, to stand as section 3 of chapter 3:

SEC. 3. Upon the filing of such application, the commissioner authorized to act thereon shall, as soon as practicable thereafter, proceed to personally examine the route of the proposed drain, and if, in his opinion, it is necessary and conducive to the public health, convenience, or welfare, that the application should be granted, he shall, as a means of determining the practicability thereof, make a survey and measurement of the line of the proposed drain, or cause the same to be made by a competent surveyor. If upon such survey, he shall find such drain to be practicable, he shall make his order of determination in writing in accordance therewith, and shall establish the commencement, route, and terminus of said drain, and the width, length, and depth thereof, and shall set survey or grade stakes, not more than ten rods apart. For such purpose he shall have the right to enter upon any lands traversed by the route of the proposed drain, or otherwise connected with the purpose of the proceeding. In locating such drain the commissioner shall not be limited or confined to the precise starting point, route, or terminus set forth in the application. The record or minutes of the survey shall show the line and route of the drain, and the width of surface excavation that will be required in its construction, and shall also show by tracing on either side, and by words or letters and figures, the width of ground that will be required for the deposition of earth, and every release of right of way shall be deemed to include the extreme width thus shown. As a guide to the commissioner in making or reviewing the assessment of benefits, and to the township board in case of appeal as hereinafter provided, the survey shall also show, by map or plat, the lands to be drained, and the number of acres that will be drained on each piece or parcel of land, giving the description of each entire piece or parcel as it is entered in the township assessment roll, or described in the title deeds of the owner or owners, and any piece or parcel of land so described shall be deemed the land benefited, by reason of its entirety, by the drainage of any land forming a part of such described piece or parcel.

Such application shall be in writing and shall set forth:

Such citation shall be personally served by the commissioner, or some other competent person, upon every person whose lands are traversed by such drain, or who will be liable to assessment for benefits for the construction thereof and who has not released the right of way and all damages on account thereof, and who is known and resides within the township or townships in which any such lands are situated, by delivering to him a copy thereof, or by leaving the same at his residence with some person of suitable age and discretion, who shall be informed of its contents. In all cases of personal service at least ten days shall intervene between the day of service and the day of hearing, and the court issuing such citation shall require proof of such service by affidavit, showing the time, place, and manner of such service. Whenever a complaint is made or pending against any boy under the age of sixteen years, or girl under the age of seventeen years, for the commission of any offense not punishable by law with imprisonment for life, before any court or magistrate having competent jurisdiction thereof, it shall be the duty of such court or magistrate, at once and before any further proceedings are had in the case, to give notice in writing of the pendency, to said agent, if there shall be one in said county, who shall have opportunity allowed him to investigate the charge or charges; and upon receiving such notice the agent shall immediately proceed to inquire into and make a full examination of the parentage and surroundings of the child, and of all the facts and circumstances of the case, and report the same to the court or magistrate, who shall advise and counsel with the said agent; and if upon such consultation, after full investigation and proof of the offense charged, it shall appear to the court that the public interest, and the interest of such child will be best subserved thereby, he may make an order for the return of such child to his or her parents, guardian or friends; or he may authorize said agent, under the advice and approval of the judge of probate of the county, to take such child and bind him or her out to some suitable person, until he or she shall have attained the age of twenty-one years, or for any less time, or impose a fine, or to suspend sentence for a definite or indefinite period; or if the child is found guilty of the offense charged, and appears to be willfully wayward and unmanageable, the court may cause him or her to be sent to the Reform School, Industrial Home for Girls, or to any State penal or reformatory institution authorized by law to receive such boy or girl, subject to such conditions of sex and age as are now provided by law for the reception of children in said school or institution, and in such cases the report of the agent shall be attached to the mittimus, and the child may be placed in charge of the agent to be conveyed, under his direction, to the institution, and for such services the same fees shall be allowed as are paid to sheriffs in like cases.

SEC. 3. Said agent shall visit all children resident in the county for which he is appointed which shall have been indentured to any person therein by any State institution, whenever he shall be so requested to do by the superintendent of the institution which placed such children in said county, and shall inquire into the management, condition, and treatment of such children, and for that purpose may have private interviews with such children at any time; and if it shall come to the knowledge of such agent when making such visits, or at any other time, that any child thus placed in charge of any person as aforesaid is neglected, abused, or improperly treated by the person having such child in charge, or that such person is unfit to have the care thereof, he shall report the facts to the superintendent of the State institution by which the child was so indentured, and the board of such institution, or the superintendent thereof who may be so authorized to do by said board on being satisfied that the interest of the child requires it, shall cancel the indenture by which the child was placed in the family, and shall remove it to some other family home or directly to the State institution from which it was indentured. All indentures by which any child shall be placed in a home from any State institution shall reserve the right in the board making the indenture to cancel the same whenever, in the opinion of that board, the interests of the child require it. Whenever any indenture is cancelled as herein provided, or whenever any child indentured from any State institution has been adopted, notice thereof shall be given to said agent of the county where the child was indentured by the superintendent of the State institution from which the child was indentured or adopted.

SEC. 4. No child shall be indentured, adopted, or otherwise placed in charge of any person by any State institution during minority, or for any other period, unless the applicant for any child shall be first approved in writing by said agent for the county where the applicant resides, or by the State agent of the State institution to which the child belongs, in such form as may be prescribed by the board of such State institution. Such approval shall be filed with the superintendent of the State institution to which the application is made before the child shall be indentured or adopted.

SEC. 5. It shall be the duty of said agents, in their respective counties, to seek out suitable persons who are willing to take by indenture or adoption, and take charge of, educate and maintain children arrested for offenses, committed to any State institution, or abandoned, neglected, or dependent children in charge of any State institution, or its officers, and to give notice where such children may be so placed, to the board, officers, or superintendent having authority to dispose of such children by indenture or adoption. And said agents shall make regular or special reports of their doings under this act, to the superintendent of any State institution when so requested by him, in reference to applications for, or visiting any child belonging to the State institution of which he has charge. Said agents shall also report as aforesaid their doings under this act to the State Board of Corrections and Charities whenever so requested by said board.

SEC. 6. It shall be the duty of the superintendent of the reform school, and the principal officers of any State institution for the care or reformation of juvenile offenders now or hereafter to be established, upon the discharge of any boy or girl received therein, forthwith to notify the agent of the Board of Corrections and Charities, residing in the county from which such child was sent, of such discharge; or if the boy or girl so discharged shall return to such county the agent shall, as far as possible, assist him or her in procuring suitable employment and a good home, free from immoral and evil influences. Said agent shall also keep a brief history of each child within his county discharged as aforesaid, in a manner and form to be prescribed by the board of which he is agent, and report the same from time to time to said board as it may require, to the end that the effect of the treatment and discipline of the several institutions of the State for the care and reformation of juvenile delinquents, upon their discharge therefrom, may be better known and understood.

Pending third reading of

House bill No. 686 (File No. 400), entitled

A bill making an appropriation of swamp land to aid in draining the swamp lands adjacent to Dowagiac creek, in Van Buren county, Michigan;

The same was laid on the table.

By unanimous consent, the following minority report was received:

To the Senate:

The undersigned, a minority of the committee on military affairs, to whom was referred the following preamble and resolution:

WHEREAS, The late Governor of this State, Hon. Josiah W. Begole, stated in his outgoing message that he had, through one Friend Palmer, of Detroit, collected a certain sum of money from the United States on certain claims of the State against the United States, but did not inform the Legislature what disposition he made of said money so received; and,

WHEREAS, It has been alleged that said money was paid by said Josiah W. Begole into the hands of the Quartermaster General of this State; therefore,

Resolved, That the committee on military affairs be, and they are hereby instructed to investigate the transaction and report to the Senate the amount of money, if any, so received from the general government by the said Josiah W. Begole, as Governor of this State, through said Palmer, through what office and from what cause such indebtedness to this State by the United States arose, what arrangement was made with said Palmer for commissions; by what authority the same was made, and said commission, if any, was paid to said Palmer; what disposition he made of such money; and to what officer of this State, if to any, the same was paid; and what disposition was made of such money by said officer; by what authority, if any, the Governor paid over said money to said officer; and that said committee have power to send for persons and papers, and to administer oaths to witnesses,

Would respectfully report that I participated in the investigation and was present at the examination of most of the witnesses.

I would further state that the report submitted to the Senate on the third of June, by the majority of the committee, was never submitted to the committee for consideration at any time when I was present, and that I had no knowledge that the report was prepared and about to be submitted to the Senate until the morning session of June the second. As I was to be absent until the afternoon of June the third I asked that the consideration of the report by the committee might be postponed until after my return. This I not only considered proper, as a matter of courtesy to me, but I thought then, as I think now, that it was a claim I could make as a matter of right as one of the members of the committee.

The committee refused to postpone the consideration of the report, and submitted it to the Senate on the morning of the third, and the first knowledge I, as one of the committee, had of the conclusions of the majority was from reading it after it was printed in the Daily Journal of the Senate.

To say that I read it with surprise would be to give but feeble expression to my feelings. From the manner in which the investigation had been conducted I was prepared for a report that would be partial and perhaps partisan in its character, but that the committee would arrive at conclusions and make charges so wanting in support by the evidence, as I have been impressed by it, caused more of a feeling of astonishment than I can find words to express.

That the Senate may properly judge of the correctness of the statements and the reasonableness of the conclusions of the majority and the minority of the committee, I ask that the testimony and reports be printed and submitted to the Senate, and to the people of the State of Michigan, in order that each and all may judge whether the majority or the minority of the committee have arrived at just and reasonable conclusions from the evidence before it.

The publication of the whole of the testimony has become a matter of necessity as well as of justice because of the further charge against Gov. Begole made in the following extract from the report of the majority of the committee, which is the first comment it makes on the subject matter before the committee:

"Many witnesses have been subpoenaed at the suggestion of the different members of said committee, among the first of whom was Josiah W. Begole, ex-Governor of the State, whose testimony, given at different times, exhibits a lack of memory and want of consistency, to use no severer terms, that would almost justify your committee in giving to his testimony no further credence or consideration than if his inconsistencies had been intentional misstatements."

This bitter attack upon Gov. Begole the minority of your committee contend is not justified by evidence before the committee, and this can only be decided by the publication of the testimony.

The following letter explains the source from which the money claimed to have been misappropriated by Gov. Begole was received:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, THIRD AUDITOR'S OFFICE, }
Washington, D. C., April 17, 1885.

Hon. C. B. Henry, Committee on Claims, Lansing, Mich.:

SIR—In reply to your letter of the 11th inst., relative to the claim of the State of Michigan, on which the sum of $42,345.95 was allowed and sent to Governor J. W. Begole, and in answer to your several inquiries I would state that the claim of the State was for ordnance and ordnance stores issued to the Michigan volunteers by the Quartermaster General of the State, which ordnance the State had received before the rebellion from the Ordnance Department, U. S. A., on her quota for arms under acts of Congress. Also claim for recruiting expenses, and a further claim for "interest and discount" paid by the State on moneys borrowed for war purposes. The following statement shows the amount of each:

Ordnance and ordnance stores.....	$42,585 95
Recruiting expenses (M. R. North).....	1,500 00
Interest and discount.....	320,488 32

Total amount of 9th installment.....$364,574 27

This is termed the 9th installment, as the State had previously filed eight installments of claims. The ninth installment was filed in this office by Friend Palmer as the agent of the Governor, and also filed his commission from Governor Josiah W. Begole to act as his agent in the presentation and prosecution of the claims of the State (excepting the 8th installment).

Upon the evidence filed by the agent, and on the report of the Chief of Ordnance, U. S. A., a settlement was made, and on the ordnance account the sum of $42,345.95 was allowed and reported to the Hon. Second Comptroller for his revision and confirmation, May 10, 1884, which was returned by him to this office, May 17, 1884, confirming the allowance made by this office of $42,345.95.

The item of $1,500 for recruiting was suspended for further evidence to substantiate the claim, and the claim for "interest and discount," of $320,488.32, was disallowed, there being no statute of Congress authorizing the payment of "interest" and "discount" to states on account of advances made by them.

Under date of April 30, 1883, Friend Palmer, as agent of the State, requested to be informed whether the act of Congress, approved June 14, 1878, limited the time for presentation of State claims to June 14, 1883.

Hon. E. W. Keightley, Auditor, then informed him, under date of May 3, 1883, "That no decision has yet been made upon the point involved in your inquiry. Prudence would seem to demand that everything which can be presented prior to the 14th proximo should be so filed."

Subsequent to the 14th of June, 1883, the Hon. Second Comptroller has made a decision that the limiting clause in the act of June 14, 1878, does not apply to the presentation of claims, but to the time for reporting to Congress by the Hon. Secretary of the Treasury.

A copy of the papers and vouchers relating to this 9th installment was sent to the Quartermaster General of the State of Michigan, who will, I doubt not, furnish your committee with copies on application.

I am, very respectfully,

A. M. GANGEWER,

Acting Auditor.

The majority of the committee state that "As a matter of law, and as a matter of fact, your committee conclude that the claim of $42,345.92 due the State of Michigan from the general government would not have lapsed as was represented in the message of the late retiring Governor; and it would have been a matter of but a few moments' investigation on the part of the legal State official, the Attorney General, to ascertain this fact. Had he not been accessible (which is not likely) any attorney, with but limited legal experience, ought not to have hesitated in forming this conclusion."

As a minority of the committee I submit that from evidence before the committee this is not a fair statement, and that, in my opinion, it conveys a false impression; one different from that which any candid man will receive from the statements of the witnesses.

As a minority of the committee I hold that the evidence will sustain me in the statement that when Governor Begole made the contract with Mr. Palmer there was no man in the State of Michigan that knew that this claim "would not have lapsed," but that on the contrary all who are shown to have known that any claims existed, supposed that they would lapse.

I would in this connection call particular attention to the following paragraphs taken from the letter written to C. R. Henry, one of the majority of this committee, as having a direct bearing upon this question, and sustaining the ground upon which Gov. Begole acted :

"Under date of April 30, 1883, Friend Palmer, as agent of the State, requested to be informed whether the act of Congress, approved June 14, 1878, limited the time for presentation of State claims, to June 14, 1883.

Hon. E. W. Keightley, Auditor, then informed him, under date of May 3, 1883, "That no decision has yet been made upon the point involved in your inquiry. Prudence would seem to demand that every thing which can be presented prior to the 14th proximo should be so filed."

Subsequent to the 14th of June, 1883, the Hon. Second Comptroller has made a decision that the limiting clause in the act of June 14, 1878, does not apply to the presentation of claims, but to the time for reporting to Congress by the Hon. Secretary of the Treasury.

A copy of the papers and vouchers relating to this 9th installment was sent to the Quartermaster General of the State of Michigan, who will, I doubt not, furnish your committee with copies on application.

I am, very respectfully,

A. M. GANGEWER,

Acting Auditor.

As having a bearing upon this question of the manner in which Gov. Begole disposed of this money, I give the following quotation from the testimony of Quartermaster General Shakespeare :

"Q. By Mr. Shoemaker : You state that when you were in Washington the chief of the ordnance department stated to you that this claim was payable in arms ?"

"A. Yes sir."

"Q. Will you state what further he said to you relative to obtaining money instead of arms ?"

"A. He stated to us that if we could get it attached onto the appropriation bill we could get it in money, and we could then expend it as we saw fit. We had been trying to draw tents and things of that kind from the quartermaster's department, and they claimed we were not entitled to them under the appropriation. He says : 'If it was payable in money it would be subject to the military authorities to expend as they saw fit.'"

"Q. What steps were then taken to procure it being placed on the appropriation bills ?"

"A. We went to see Friend Palmer, and went up to the House of Representatives and called out Representative Horr, and he said he was busy then getting ready to go to Chicago and he would introduce us to a couple of gentlemen from Massachusetts who had the same kind of a claim there, and he called them out and we were introduced to them and asked them if they would take charge of it, and they told us they would."

* * * * *

Q. "But you understood it was through their action it was placed upon the appropriation bill ?"

A. "And the influence of Mr. Palmer. He said he would see his brother and see that it was taken care of in the Senate."

* * * * *

Q. "Mr. Friend Palmer said he would see his brother ?"

A. "If the Senator is his brother. He said he would see the Senator and have it attended to there."

This testimony will make it understood why the "one person" was Gen. William Shakespeare, of whom the majority of the committee say :

"After the closest scrutiny we find but one person who clearly advises him that it is right and proper for him to pay the money into the lap of the Quartermaster General, and in that person we find General William Shakespeare. A copy of the letter conveying this friendly advice is to be found in his letter book and reads as follows:

"July 9, 1884.

"MY DEAR GOVERNOR:—I understand that the claims of this State against the general government for arms furnished during the war, have been allowed, and attached to one of the deficiency bills, and amounts to about forty-three thousand dollars. That money belongs to this department, and should be paid to me instead of the State Treasurer. I trust, Governor, you will pardon me for calling your attention to this matter, but we need money so bad for new uniforms, and believing that if it should go into the general fund we would never see it, except by act of the Legislature, when the check comes I trust you will not forget this letter.

"I am, Governor, your obedient servant,

"WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE, Q. M. G."

The majority of the committee having had this testimony under consideration, giving the reasons of Gen. Shakespeare why this money obtained "for arms furnished during the war" should belong to his department, and why Gov. Begole should pay the money to him instead of to the State Treasurer, I submit if the following extract from the report of the majority can be justified as applied to Governor Begole:

"Let it suffice to add, that when the check came the Governor did not forget the letter, and did not forget to inform the soldiers in the fall of 1884 that he did not forget, notwithstanding the fact it necessitated 'the forgetting' of the rudiments of common prudence, the forgetting that it was a misappropriation of the people's money, the violation of a sacred trust, and the contamination of the highest State office by this nefarious act."

What is it that Governor Begole has done that calls for this unmeasured and undignified condemnation by the majority of the committee? What is it that has so excited the righteous indignation of that majority that it apparently is at a loss for terms strong enough to express its disapproval?

It is simply this, and nothing more: There was $12,345.95 received from the general government, of which sum $10,586.50 was paid to Mr. Palmer for commission, and $31,759.45 was paid into the Quartermaster General's department. The sum of $42,345.95 was received for ordnance and ordnance stores, as is shown by the evidence, and properly belonged, in the opinion of Governor Begole, to that department, and in the exercise of the discretion vested in him as Governor, he paid it to that department.

He undoubtedly, in the opinion of the minority of your committee, had the power and the right to place it where he did, if in his opinion that was a wise use to make of the discretionary power vested in him. The State has lost nothing by this payment. Governor Begole has gained nothing. The majority of the committee admit that "Josiah W. Begole was in no way pecuniarily benefited by the same, and this notwithstanding their loss to determine the motives which actuated his most extraordinary conduct."

The money was received for a military claim, and the money was added to the military fund. This fund with this addition is now so poor that there will probably be no encampment of the State troops this year because there is no money in the military fund to pay the expenses.

The testimony of both Gov. Begole and Secretary of State Conant establish the fact that Gov. Begole counseled with the latter at all stages of the negotiation with Mr. Palmer, and I make brief extracts from the testimony of Mr. Conant bearing on this point and also showing that Gov. Begole intended only to care for the interests of the State, and to exercise a sound discretion in his dealings with Mr. Palmer:

"Q. Who was the first person that spoke to you about this claim?"

"A. I can't remember. It had been a matter that had been discussed. It was a well-known fact that Michigan had had some uncollected moneys at Washington almost ever since the beginning of the war, but the amount was very indefinite. I think I had understood, and the board had made some investigation, that the only claims that we could get hold of were those in process of collection. In fact you will notice in the order for the commission that those claims which the board had in process of collection were exempted from Mr. Palmer's order. Those were the only claims the board was able to get on to."

"Q. Did you, or was you asked to look up the legal phase of the question as to the lapsing of this claim?"

"A. I made an effort to look it up, but could find nothing in regard to the matter. Then the next important thing that occurred was this notification that we had of a collection, or at least of a credit being made on the books of the Third Auditor, and the appearance of Governor Begole in the room of the Board of State Auditors, with the request that Mr. Palmer's bill be allowed. No action was taken. The matter was quite thoroughly discussed, and, I presume, from what I stated at that time, the Governor inferred that I was in favor of the payment of the bill. At any rate, when we left the room, the Governor (I don't think I can recollect the exact language) said: 'I don't know what I am going to do about this.' I said I knew what I would do; and then I expressed myself something in this way: 'That as I regarded it, not only his own honor, but the credit of the State at stake, and that it was a fair bargain with Mr. Palmer, and that he should be paid. I probably impressed the Governor with the idea, as I intended to, that I regarded the claim as a just one, and that it ought to be paid.'

"In that conversation that took place between the Governor and myself in the hall, after having stated that I believed the claim a proper one, and that it should be met, I said to the Governor, if this money comes into your hands I think you should pay Mr. Palmer his claim, take his receipt, and then I should take the balance of the money and the receipt and offer them to the State Treasurer. Ask a receipt for the full amount. If he don't want to receipt in full, ask a receipt for the money and a receipt for the Palmer receipt. This will show a straight transaction, and the people of the State of Michigan will approve of it."

The most important question connected with this investigation is most carefully and gingerly treated by the majority of the committee, namely: that of the fact that this and other claims had been existing for twenty or more years, had been either entirely neglected by each succeeding administration since the close of the war, or had been so unskillfully handled that Mr. Palmer presented a claim for $365,575.27, of which there was allowed this sum of $42,345.62.

All the majority of the committee have to say on this important matter is this:

"Your committee are induced to conclude that if Mr. Palmer was solely the possessor of information which might lead to the collection of this claim, that he obtained that information while acting as Quartermaster General of this State some years ago, or while acting as an employe of this State, through the files and documents belonging and pertaining to that office, many of which have since unaccountably disappeared. As to the source of his information, Mr. Palmer, perhaps, wisely declined to impart to your committee."

The evidence proves that the greatest carelessness has been so common in the Auditor General's office and in that of the Military departments that had anything to do with the claims of the State of Michigan against the General Government for war material and war claims as to be rather the rule than the exception.

The facts are, and this is shown by the evidence given in this investigation, that all claims of the State against the General Government originated in Michigan, or that the proof of all such was in some one of the State departments either at Detroit or Lansing.

It is a well established fact that all proof of all claims was first in the hands of some one of the State departments in Michigan.

These vouchers, and all the evidence of these claims that now exist, or that has heretofore existed in Washington, came in the first instance from Michigan, and it is owing to the fact that these proofs, these vouchers, and these records were taken or sent to Washington without a proper record having been made of them in the State departments from which they were taken that all the confusion and trouble has arisen. Some of these claims to a large amount were allowed and paid as early as the administration of Governor Crapo, but what were allowed and what were paid has been and apparently is what no man in Michigan can find out, Mr. Friend Palmer perhaps excepted, and there is nothing, in the opinion of the minority of your committee, in the evidence, either express or implied, that reflects upon the honor or the integrity of Mr. Palmer in connection with his efforts to collect these claims. He has evidently made himself familiar with the manner in which business is transacted at the departments in Washington, and has availed himself of that knowledge to endeavor to find out what of the claims that have been presented have been paid and what have not. The testimony of himself and of others is to the effect that he did not at all rely upon the departments at Lansing for any proof or information respecting these claims.

The evidence further shows that Governor Baldwin sent one of the State officers to Washington at two different times to endeavor to establish some of the claims of the State, the evidence of which was then supposed to exist at Washington, and that in both cases the effort was futile, and without result.

All this and more bearing upon this point of the loose, unbusiness-like, and almost criminal manner in which the claims of the State have been managed in Michigan by the officers having them in charge is brought out by the evidence in this investigation, and the majority of the committee on military affairs, who are so indignant with Governor Begole for having recovered of these same claims $42,345.95, pass over all this without further notice than the single paragraph quoted above, although it is the sole and only cause that rendered this action of Gov. Begole necessary.

These claims should have been collected years ago, and would have been had ordinary care, forethought, or business-like methods been exercised in the State departments at Lansing having charge of these accounts.

The following is quoted from the testimony of Gen. Stevens, Auditor General, as sustaining the position of the minority of your committee:

"Q. Is there any memorandum in your office of vouchers taken from there prior to that time? (Referring to the time Mr. Friend Palmer was in Washington.)

"Yes, sir. Until lately there has not been copies kept. There are some memorandums."

The testimony of Hubert R. Pratt, Deputy Auditor General, to which I would particularly call attention, will serve to explain why there is and has been so much difficulty in collecting the claims against the general government, and will show, as I understand his testimony, that of the papers now in the Auditor General's office, and which he exhibited to the committee, there was no knowledge of what had been allowed and paid and what had not. Mr. Pratt was asked by Mr. Henry:

"Q. By whom were those claims collected?"

"A. So far as the claims represented by these papers were collected they were collected by the then Auditor General."

Relative to the payment of commissions the following was the question and his answer:

"Q. Among those claims collected, as you have stated, is there any memorandum or record of any commissions paid to any person for the collection of the claims to your knowledge?"

"A. There are some charges on the books in the Auditor General's office showing disbursements for that purpose."

"Q. Can you remember the amounts, or by whom they were collected?"

"A. If the committee will give me a little time, I would prefer to bring in the vouchers."

Mr. Pratt stated: "I have been in the office since 1858," and further to Mr Shoemaker:

"Q. I asked whether there is or has been, to your knowledge, any vouchers that covered amounts that are included in this allowance, made by this act of Congress, and which is included in this $42,000?"

"A. I do not understand that question, for, as I stated a while ago, we have no means in the Auditor's office of knowing what a single dollar of the moneys that have been recovered and put into the State treasury is for, whether it is for arms, for subsistence, or what."

"Q. Had you any knowledge previous to this matter arising as to this money being collected, of any unpaid claims by the State of Michigan against the United States?"

"A. I knew that the claims that had been presented had not been paid in full. I did not know why; I did not know what items were rejected. In other words, I knew that the State had disbursed a large amount of money in excess of the amount that had been received back from the United States."

"Q. How long had you known that?"

"A. I do not know. I think my knowledge must have commenced about the time that I first knew about the presenting of papers—along in 1864, perhaps. Mr. Anneke was then Auditor-General, and he sent a large amount to Washington. Gen. Humphrey, I think, had something to do with it, and the claims were presented by sending down the original vouchers, and when the money came it was entered on the books, and we had no means of knowing what items were paid."

"Q. Then it was known through the administrations of all the preceding Governors since the war, down to Governor Begole, that such claims were existing, was it?"

"A. It has been known in the Auditors' Office; I don't know about the knowledge of the Governors."

By Mr. Woodruff:

"Q. I mean of the claims that the State has against the government: shouldn't there have been copies of them in your office at the time Mr. Palmer wanted to go to Washington to collect those claims?"

"A. There should have been found in our office vouchers for moneys that had been paid by the State Treasurer."

"Q. To furnish these supplies?"

"A. To furnish these supplies. When the war broke out the State Treasurer paid direct, as it was called, a large number of detailed bills. Copies of those or the originals came into the Auditor's office as vouchers, on which the Auditor drew his warrant. Afterwards, and perhaps simultaneously, money were placed in the quartermaster's hands, and in paymaster's hands, and they were both making disbursements, and the quartermaster and the paymaster filed duplicates of their vouchers with the Auditor General."

This is identical with the case of the payment by Gov. Begole to the military department.

By Mr. Shoemaker:

"Q. If Governor Begole or Mr. Palmer, during Gov. Begole's administration, had come into your office to look for vouchers to have made a claim against the United States, was there any thing in your office by which they could have told which were paid or which were unpaid claims?"

"A. No, sir; I think not."

Gen. Robertson, speaking of his visit to Washington with Gen Shakespeare, says of his action on $42,000 claim:

"Q. You did 'nt consider it a part of your visit?"

"A. Oh, no; I did 'nt go for that purpose."

"Q. And whatever you may have talked you cannot remember what it was?"

"A. It was of so little consequence to me, except my anxiety, which I know existed, that we should get the money for the State Troops in some way or other."

From this testimony of Gen. Robertson, who has been Adjutant General of the State since April, 1861, and who is more familiar with the military affairs of the State than any other man, it appears that he was anxious this appropriation, of which he was then speaking, should pass, so that the State troops might get the money.

From the testimony of Friend Palmer, there is one page missing. The following, an extract from his testimony on file to all of which your attention is particularly called, as it explains in a full and I think satisfactory manner the connection of both Gov. Begole and Mr. Palmer with the collection of this claim.

"Q. When you resigned the office of Quartermaster General, did you leave all those papers in the office?"

"A. Everything."

"Q. Did you take any papers with you pertaining to this claim?"

"A. No."

"Q. After you resigned had you access to the office from time to time?"

"A. No."

"Q. Did you ever visit the office for the purpose of looking up any claims against the United States in favor of this State?"

"A. No; I was in office under the Bagley contract, but I never examined any papers at all."

"Q. Speaking of the Bagley contract, you refer to a contract with Governor Bagley whereby you collected money for the State of Michigan of the United States?"

"A. Yes, sir."

The testimony of Mr. Palmer is full and explicit as to the understanding at the time the contract was made, that the claim would lapse in, July, 1883, and that there had been such a ruling by Judge Keightley, Third Auditor in the treasury department at Washington. The information that a decision had been made by the Second Auditor that the claim would not lapse, was after the claim had been allowed. His testimony is also to the effect that he obtained allowances of claims by request of Governor Crapo, for which he was to receive compensation. That he collected at that time, $346,000, but Governor Crapo having died, he failed to get his pay, and states why this result followed.

The reading of the full testimony of Mr. Palmer, as that of all the other witnesses, is necessary for a proper understanding of the matters under investigation, and all should be published with the reports of the committee.

In connection with the payment of the sum of $31,759.45 to Gen. Shespeare, the Quartermaster General, the majority of the committee say:

"Prior to receiving the checks above mentioned, your committee, from their investigations, would be led to believe that Governor Begole intended, on the receipt of said money, to place the same where it unquestionably belonged—in the hands of the State Treasurer. His explanation for taking upon himself the office of the Legislature and appropriating over $30,000 to a creature of the State, the Military Department, is so utterly void of any color of right, authority or plausible excuse, that your committee are compelled to hesitate before charging the same to the already overburdened pretexs, ignorance, want of individualism, and blunders of the late Executive. That what remained after Mr. Palmer had received his bounteous fee of over $10,000 for doing what any member of Congress could and ought to have done for nothing, should have been placed by the Governor in the State Treasury, there can be no question. As Governor of the State, in this particular, Josiah W. Begole grossly, wantonly, and inexcusably exceeded all statutory and discretionary powers when he placed this money at the disposal of the Quartermaster General."

Aside from any criticism upon the epithets poured so copiously upon the gray head of Governor Begole, are the statements made in the above extracts true?

Is it true that his explanation "is so utterly void of any color of right authority, or plausible excuse" as to justify the harsh terms that are so freely used? What proof do the majority of the committee give of the truth of the charges made? None whatever, and none can be given.

Is it true that "Josiah W. Begole grossly, wantonly, and inexcusably exceeded all statutory and discretionary powers when he placed this money at the disposal of the Quartermaster General?" Have the majority of the committee quoted any "statutory" provision of law that was violated? Not at all, for there is none that was violated.

Have they given any rule or regulation that in any manner restricts the discretionary power under which Governor Begole acted? Not at all, and the minority of your committee do not know of any, and there was none such shown to be in force by the evidence before the committee.

The following extracts from the testimony of Friend Palmer has a bearing upon this question of the payment of this money to the military fund:

"Q. By Mr. Woodruff: I would like a little more information on this interview with Shakespeare. You said according to the best of your recollection there seemed to be a desire to get hold of the money right away?"

"A. I thought so from the conversation. They thought it would be available."

"How did you get the impression that they wanted to divert it to the military fund?"

"A. They talked about the military fund, and asked my opinion about it, and I told them I didn't know, that some funds had been diverted, that General Piñan drew $92,000 in Washington to pay Michigan troops. It didn't come out of the treasury, but as this amount was for arms alone, I thought perhaps there would be no impropriety in its going to the State Military Fund, though that was only my opinion. Still I knew that the general direction of those moneys was to the general fund."

"Q. Do you recollect hearing any conversation between Shakespeare, and Robertson and yourself, any expression of a determination to so convert it without putting it into the State treasury?"

"A. No. I think not. I think they said the Governor would put it there. They thought so, but they didn't know for certain. They said they thought it ought to go there."

In another part of the report the committee say:

"Gov. Begole would have as much right and authority to have placed this money in the hands of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, in the hands of the Commissioner of Labor, in the hands of the Insurance Commissioner, or in the hands of his partner in business as to have placed it where he did."

Is this true in law or in fact, under the discretionary power vested in the Governor either by law or by usage?

Did not Gov. Blair divert vouchers and proofs of military affairs from the military departments?

Did not Gov. Crapo agree to pay commissions for collecting claims in Washington? We must believe that they did or that Mr. Friend Palmer commits perjury.

Did not Gov. Bagley actually pay such commissions? There is no dispute as to the fact that he did so.

The majority further criticise the action of Gov. Begole as follows:

"Even if Gov. Begole had been advised by the proper person that the claim would lapse, as he states, he had no right or authority to enter into any contract with Friend Palmer, or any other person, for the collection of the claim as Governor of the State of Michigan, and when he executed the contract with Mr. Palmer, agreeing upon the exorbitant commission of 25 per cent of the amount collected, he exceeded his authority as Governor and all discretion as a citizen."

The minority of your committee contend that Gov. Begole had both the right and the authority "to enter into any contract with Friend Palmer, or any other person, for the collection of the claim, as Governor of the State of Michigan," and in doing so he was merely exercising the same discretionary power that had been exercised by Governors Crapo and Bagley, as appears by the testimony of Friend Palmer, Mr. H. R. Pratt, Deputy Auditor General, and others. By Gov. Bagley a commission of fifteen per cent was actually paid to Mr. Palmer.

Feeling, as I do, that the report of the majority of the committee is not only unkind in its tone, but also unjust in its conclusions, and believing as I do that

Gov. Begole is the honest man that he has the reputation of being, and that in all he did in this matter he was actuated solely by what he regarded as the interest of the State, I believe that when the testimony taken by the committee and the reports of the majority and minority of the committee are all submitted to the Senate and to the people, then Gov. Begole need have no fear or even anxiety as to what will be the verdict.

In conclusion I would recommend the passage of the following resolution ; all of which is respectfully submitted.

Have made sundry amendments thereto, and have directed their chairman to report the same back to the Senate, asking concurrence therein, and recommend their passage.

R. KEMPF, Chairman.

Report accepted and committee discharged.

The first named bills were placed on the order of third reading of bills.

On motion of Mr. Hubbell,

The Senate concurred in the recommendation of the committee regarding the second named bills, and the same were placed on the order of third reading of bills.

On motion of Mr. Hubbell,

The following statistics relating to the cost of lighting the capitol by electric light and gas, contained in the remarks of Senator Belknap, were ordered printed in the Journal:

Mr. Belknap said:

The cost of gas for lighting the capitol for the fiscal years of 1883 and 1884 was $10,069.57. The last six months of the fiscal year of 1884, gas cost at the rate of $2.00 per thousand feet and $2.50 for the one and one-half years preceding. Had the price of gas been at the rate of $2.50 for the entire period, the gas bill would have been about $10,698 for the two years above named. At the present price of gas, the cost for the two years would be $8,258.40 or $4,279.20 per year.

No deduction should be made from this amount for gas used for ventilating purposes as claimed by the gas company, for the reason that gas is not used at the capitol for such purpose.

The report of the gas company shows that the capitol has used 2,017,600 cubic feet of gas per year, if their printed report is correct. Dividing this amount by 365 we obtain 5,527 cubic feet as the average daily use of gas.

This amount 5,527 cubic feet will run 921 6-foot gas burners one hour each day; 921 6-foot gas burners will give in one hour an amount of light equal to that given by 691 16-candle power Edison lamps in one hour. The above number, 691 Edison lamps, will be required to run one hour to replace the gas used on the average each day. 691 16-candle power Edison lamps, run one hour, require 87 horse power for one hour.

Allowing 5 lbs. coal for each horse power per hour, 435 lbs. coal would be required each day, which costs $1.19 per day with coal at $5.50 per 2,000 pounds.

Multiplying this daily cost by 365 we have $434.35 as the total cost of fuel per year.

If the exhaust steam is used for heating purposes a large reduction can be made from this amount.

Six-sevenths of the gas is used during the eight months of the year when steam is used for heating purposes. Charging then the value of the exhaust steam to steam heating, during the eight months, we will deduct the three-fourths of six-sevenths, equal nine-fourteenths of the entire cost of fuel. This leaves the cost of fuel chargeable to electric lighting to be $155.00.

There is absolutely no depreciation on the wiring of the building as there is on gas pipes.

The depreciation on the dynamos is about 1 per cent, and we will allow 7 per cent depreciation on the engines or 3 per cent on both. Allowing an investment of $20,000 for engines and dynamos, we will have a depreciation of $600 per year. Allowing the life of the lamp to be 2000 hours, there would be 144 lamps broken in a year, which cost 85 cents each, or a total cost for lamps of $122.40 per year. The State can easily borrow money at 4 per cent interest. An investment of $30,000 at 4 per cent gives for interest $1,200. Oil and waste would cost about $50 per year. Services of one man $500.

TO RECAPITULATE.

Interest on investment of $30,000 @ 4 per cent.....	$1,200 00
Cost of fuel, less exhaust steam, for eight months.....	155 00
Breakage of lamps.....	126 00
Depreciation.....	600 00
Oil and waste.....	50 00
Services of one man.....	500 00

Total cost of electric light per year.....	$2,631 00
Cost of gas per year.....	4,279 20

EFFECT ON AIR IN BUILDING.

According to the meter, the gas company pours 5,527 cubic feet of coal gas into the rooms of the capitol on the average every day of the year. The absolute quantity is much greater than this as the gas is measured under pressure considerably above atmospheric pressure. The combustion of this quantity of gas requires two parts of oxygen from the room for every one part of carbon consumed. The product is a poisonous gas, carbonic acid gas. A large number of other gases equally objectionable are given off from the gas burners, also free particles of carbon which settle as a dust on the walls, ceilings, and floors. Medical authorities state that a six foot gas burner pours a quantity of carbonic acid gas into the room equal to that exhaled by eight persons. Three hundred burners, therefore, poison the air equal to the exhalations of 2,400 persons.

The incandescent light is absolutely free from this objection to gas. It is steady, easily controlled, gives out no gas and but little heat and its current is safe to the person.

On motion of Mr. Hubbell,

PROTEST.

I hereby protest against the passage of Senate bill No. 343 (File No. 253), because it is manifestly unjust in apportioning and giving to that portion of the State called the Upper Peninsula, with the county of Emmet, three Senators, when they are, according to their population, entitled to only two. Their population is, 124,535, and as the ratio of population for a Senatorial district is 58,003, after giving them two Senators there would be a surplus of only 8,529, which comes almost entirely from the county of Emmet, in the lower Peninsula, which has a population of 7,945.

J. MANWARING,
Senator 16th District.

The President also announced the following:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, }
Lansing, June 10, 1885. }

To the President of the Senate:

SIR—I am instructed by the House to return to the Senate the following entitled bill:

Senate bill No. 376 (File No. 223), entitled

A bill to prevent deception in the manufacture and sale of dairy products and to preserve the public health;

And to inform the Senate that the House has amended the same as follows:

1. Amend section 1 by inserting in line 2 after the word "sell" the words "or ship into this State;"

2. By adding the following to the bill to stand as section 9:

SEC. 9. Any person or persons, co-partnership, corporation, or company, having money or property, or both, invested in any machinery, apparatus or stock used in connection with the manufacture of oleomargarine or any butter substitute, at the time when this act shall take effect, shall have the right to surrender to the sheriff of the county where such property, machinery, or stock is situated, all the property except real estate and buildings thereon invested in or used for the manufacture of such articles, an inventory of which shall, on such surrender be made by the owner or owners, in connection with said sheriff, and one duplicate copy thereof, given to such owner or owners, and the other to said sheriff. And thereupon such owner or owners making such surrender, may commence a suit in the circuit court for the county where such surrender shall be made, against the State, by petition, for the value of such property, a copy of which petition shall be served on the prosecuting attorney of said county. Such petition shall set forth substantially the grounds upon which it is made, and shall request the court, at any regular term thereof, to have the value of all such property assessed by a jury in said court. In such proceeding said commissioner, the prosecuting attorney, or the Attorney General may appear for the State, make answer and defend. And the jury shall proceed, under proper instructions from the court, upon any proper evidence before them, to find by their verdict the value of all the property so surrendered by the owner or owners thereof, and if the jury fail to agree, another jury shall be called, and so on until a verdict shall be agreed upon, and judgment shall be rendered upon said verdict found against the State for the amount so found and costs; and thereupon an execution shall be issued by said court to the sheriff, for the sale of said property so surrendered, as the property of the State, in like manner and upon similar notice as required under executions issued in cases between individuals, and the amount received on such sale shall be paid by the officer receiving the same, to such owner or owners. And in case there shall be any deficiency of proceeds of such sale, for the payment of judgment and costs, this fact, and the amount of such deficiency, shall be certified by the clerk of the court, under his hand and seal, to the Board of State Auditors, a copy at the same time being given to the petitioner or petitioners. And said Board of State Auditors shall thereupon allow to said petitioner or petitioners, the amount of such deficiency, as a debt against the State ; and upon their certificate therefor being presented to the Auditor General, shall be allowed by him, and he shall issue his warrant therefor upon the State Treasurer, who is hereby required to pay the sum out of any moneys in the general fund not otherwise appropriated.

By the minority of the committee to investigate the Quartermaster General's office:

The undersigned, a minority of your committee, to whom was referred the duty of investigating the official transactions of the office of the Quartermaster General of this State, under the administration of General William Shakespeare, by and in virtue of a resolution adopted March 13th, 1885, having acted jointly with the Senate committee on military affairs authorized to act with this your committee, beg leave to submit the following minority report:

We feel it incumbent on us to state, as a preliminary to entering into the detailed reasons for dissenting from the opinion of the majority of your committee, that we were totally unprepared to find that a majority report had been prepared ready for submission to your honorable body, and were not aware that any steps had been taken in the matter until a few hours before the report was submitted to the House, when we were called into the committee room and found a full report drawn out already signed by the majority of the committee. On being requested to concur in said report and sign the same we demurred, on the ground that we had not been advised of any meeting of said committee to consider the evidence and testimony taken during the investigation, for the purpose of basing a report thereon; nor was our advice or opinion solicited, or allowed to shape the framing of its contents; that no time was afforded us even to read said report and ascertain the contents thereof before it was submitted to the House, and that it would be folly in us to subscribe to a document of the nature of which we were entirely ignorant; nor have we seen any good reason for concurring in said majority report since we have read the same as printed in the Journal of the House.

Having been thus debarred from the privilege of expressing our opinion therein, we have no other course open to us but to express ourselves in this manner. The unusual steps above described, as taken by the majority of your committee to debar us, the minority, from exhibiting our sentiments and views in this manner, together with the savage truculence and malignant ferocity of their language, which seemed calculated to overwhelm the unfortunate object of their resentment, had it been intelligible, where the meaning was so often contradictory and the sense buried under a confused chaos of bad grammatical construction, and obscure and involved diction and phraseology, their indiscriminate and unprovoked assaults upon an honorable and worthy ex-official of this State, the unwarranted conclusions drawn from assumed premises, the distortion and mis-statement of evidence, the suppression or wilful evasion of testimony important and material to the interests of the person so severely censured, the extraordinary mingling of judicial and prosecuting powers by the said majority during the course of the investigation, where they presumed to act as prosecutors, judges, and jury, and assumed that the person under investigation was guilty of the charges preferred, before they had examined into the case, the extraordinary nature and triviality of many of the questions asked, in short, the whole tenor and animus of this extraordinary report, with its contradictory conclusions and malevolent imputations, may well call forth, from all fair minded and honorable citizens, a protest against such an unparalleled and offensive exhibition of petty and narrow partisanship.

But the facts as exhibited in this your committee's minority report, together with the evidence, testimony, and facts hereinafter cited and referred to, will in our opinion be sufficient to refute the unwarrantable and malicious charges and insinuations made in said majority report, and cause a just indignation to recoil on the heads of those who have attempted to blacken the character of a worthy and honorable officer of the State. We charge that the remarkable conduct of the majority of this committee, in not summoning the minority to consult and advise in the making of the report submitted by them, was not wholly unprecedented in all parliamentary proceedings of a similar character, but must be held conclusively to prove mala fides on their part, and an animus or intent to submit a report which they had already decided upon as a foregone conclusion, before hearing any testimony or evidence in the case, and is a prima facie proof of the malice and untruthfulness of said report.

In order to meet the charges, allegations, and insinuations therein made, we take up seriatim, all matters worthy of notice laid down therein, beginning with the following statement, to wit.:

"By the aid of files, papers, and records created during the administration of Gen. Shakespeare and the glaring abuses of all discretionary power, and the surmounting of all constitutional and statutory rights on the part of Gen. Shakespeare, as appears from the testimony in the hands of your committee, impels them to affirm the truthfulness embodied in your resolution of 'irregularities and extravagances in the Quartermaster General's office during the administration of Josiah W. Begole.'"

The sweeping and general nature of the matters charged as worthy of censure in the above extract, is only equalled by the "nonchalance and carelessness" with which they are made, to use an expression borrowed from the majority report above referred to. As appears from the testimony and evidence in this investigation, Gen. Shakespeare used little, if any, discretionary power. On the contrary, all the business of his office was transacted under the direction, and by the express orders of the State Military Board, in accordance with the statutory law regulating the same. In support of this we cite the testimony of Marshall H. Godfrey, found on page 179, et passim, and the testimony of Gen. John Robertson, pages 244 to 258, inclusive. Gen. Shakespeare's testimony, as it appears in the testimony on file in this case, is also conclusive on this point. Besides, we submit that had General Shakespeare been guilty of the charges alleged in the above extract, it should and ought to have appeared directly in the testimony offered as evidence, and should have been cited in the majority report. Proof, and not assertion is what candid people demand in such cases. It is a very easy and convenient method of damaging a person's reputation to make sweeping charges of a general nature imputing gross official dishonesty; but such a grave accusation, when unsubstantiated by any proof, is not apt to weigh much in the minds of those not willing to be convinced. As a matter of law, we submit that at least one single fact supported by undoubted evidence, should have been adduced in substantiation of said charges. But, on the contrary, all the testimony, especially that of Gen. Robertson, goes to show that Gen. Shakespeare, in all his business transactions, followed only the long established precedents of his office, as authorized by law.

We next cite the following extract from said majority report :

" Gen. Shakespeare * * * * * had indulged in extravagances to an extent that warrants us in asserting that it bordered on the misappropriation of public funds placed in his hands and under his control by virtue of his office, all of which might, and probably would, have passed with but little censure, had not the large amount of $31,759.45, as admitted by him, been placed in his hands by Gov. Begole to be disposed of, as appears by his subsequent action, to the satisfaction of any caprice that might possess him. After receiving this large amount, it appears from his testimony and from the testimony of the State Military Board " (which, by the way, is not true, as only one of the State Military Board was examined) " that the matter of expending this sum for military clothes, trimming, and blankets was very cursorily discussed by the Q. M. G. and Military Board, resulting finally in leaving the disposition thereof exclusively in the hands and to the judgment of Gen. Shakespeare, as will appear, he exercised with a nonchalance equalled only by that indulged in by the board in granting the power."

We are again forced to say, at the risk of wearisome reiteration, that the sweeping and general nature of the above charges would seem to any honest minded and candid inquirer after the truth, to require substantial proof of at least, one single act, bearing out the charges; yes, truly, in such a case there should be " proof as strong as holy writ " where a man's good name and character are at stake; but by a careful examination of the testimony, files, and papers used in this investigation, and of the law, both statutory and customary governing the subject, together with the precedents of the office, it will, and does, appear that Gen. Shakespeare could not, and did not, expend one single dollar of that sum (or any other sums) without first obtaining the authority therefor from the State Military Board, and afterwards having the bills approved by the State Military Board and by the Auditor General; for proof of which we refer to the records and files in the Quarter-master General's Department, and the bills themselves on file, and the records of the Auditor General's Department. In this connection it may not be inappropriate to state that when Gen. Shakespeare applied for permission to examine the records, files, and papers in the Quartermaster General's Department, during the progress of this investigation, he was promptly and abruptly refused the permission he solicited. We do not find any further efforts made in said report to cite any single case of " extravagances bordering on misappropriation," except the above reference to the $31,759.45, the expenditure of which was fully approved and endorsed by the State Military Board, the Auditor General and the Adjutant General, and it does not appear that Gen. Shakespeare ever received the adverse criticism of his superior officers, but it does appear that he invariably and universally received their approval.

The charges and allegations made against Gen. Shakespeare, in regard to the purchase of military cloths, blankets, trimmings, etc., and the expenditure of a portion of said sum of $31,759.45 above referred to, are of a piece with the other charges, and equally unsupported by the evidence. How the majority of your committee can draw the conclusions they arrive at, is, to us, a source of special wonder. We have never, even in our experience of a legislative body, seen such a collection of inconsistent fallacies, and such a begging of all the questions to be proved. Now, it is not true and is not supported by the testimony, that Gen. Shakespeare made "no effort to secure prices and terms of other firms," and is contradicted, expressly, by the testimony of Godfrey, Shakespeare, and all other testimony on the subject, which shows that samples of goods, etc., were received from many firms and placed on the table in the Quartermaster General's office for exhibition, where they remained for a considerable time, and were seen and examined by the State Military Board, the Adjutant General and other military officers, and citizens very generally. The specimens received from Israel & Co., of Kalamazoo, were pronounced the best, and selected by the State Military Board and the Adjutant General.

Further, it is not true, and is not supported by testimony, that Gen. Shakespeare "accepted unconditionally, and without question or counsel, the terms and prices mailed by Israel & Co.," but is contradicted by the testimony of Godfrey and Shakespeare, pages 179, 121, and elsewhere. It is not true that the goods so bought are inferior in quality or quantity, etc., but they are of a superior quality, as appears by an examination of the goods themselves by your committee, and by many other persons, who have pronounced them excellent goods in every respect. To show in what esteem the goods were held by one of our State officers, your committee are informed that two yards of the kersey purchased by the State were also ordered by Adjutant General Robertson to be made into a coat, so well pleased was he with the material, which coat he is now wearing, or can wear whenever he sees fit; for all of which, except as to the allegation that Gen. Robertson is still wearing the coat, we refer to Mr. Speyer's testimony on file. It is not true that the prices paid for said goods were exorbitant, but, on the contrary, the prices paid seem to have been reasonable at the time when the goods were purchased and prices in the market ruled differently (see Mr. Speyer's testimony on this subject). The allegation that the goods are a job lot, purchased at auction, at different times and places, and in small quantities, and that the goods are of different shades, colors, and qualities, is entirely unsupported by the testimony (see Mr. Speyer's testimony), and by an actual inspection of the goods themselves. It is a mere matter of assertion. The impression sought to be conveyed, and which rests merely on conjecture, is that the goods are an inferior job lot, bought at auction sales haphazard, and sold for extortionate sums to the State. Mr. Speyer's testimony and actual inspection shows that these are standard goods, sold at a reasonable price, as the markets then ruled, and that they do not vary in shade or color in any appreciable degree, any more than any other large lot of goods. The charge that they were sold at an advance of $7,000, or thereabouts, over the market prices at that time, is unwarranted and untrue. Indeed, the only evidence cited to substantiate this assertion is by disappointed parties who failed to get the contract, to-wit: Mr. Gillis and Mr. Hitchcock.

After the majority of the committee had scoured the State to find witnesses who would consent to testify that the goods were excessive in price, and inferior in quality, they could discover only two persons in all the State who were willing to testify to that effect. This testimony was taken without any warning to Gen. Shakespeare, so as to enable him to be present and cross-examine said parties, and furnish rebutting testimony. Indeed, the character of some of the proceedings of the majority of this committee might lead to the inference of the probable existence of a design to procure testimony as damaging as possible to the person under investigation, without affording him an opportunity to defend himself; and the legal maxim of "audi alteram partem," if remembered at all, seems to have been remembered only to be forgotten.

As to the charge that the goods were all paid for before they had all been delivered to the State authorities, we have only to say that each installment of goods was paid for when it was delivered and received, and not before, as appears from the testimony of Gen. Shakespeare and Col. Godfrey.

After a full, fair, and impartial consideration of all the matters connected with the purchase of these goods, we submit as a fair and candid statement of our opinion, that there is nothing in connection with the same that could be construed to cast the slightest reflection or imputation upon Gen. Shakespeare of carelessness, negligence, or of mis-appropriation, or worse, as insinuated in the alternative, by the majority of this your committee; but we find, on the contrary, that he conducted this transaction, as well as all the other business of his office, with honesty, care, and judgment; and all the testimony taken during this investigation, and the records, files, and papers offered in evidence, will bear us out in this statement.

We further submit that all of said purchases were necessary, and imperatively demanded by the exigencies of the public service, and that the general's conduct in this matter was not only authorized by the proper authorities, but subsequently met their unqualified approval.

As regards the conduct and efficiency of Gen. Shakespeare in managing his department, we submit the following extracts from the report of the Adjutant General for the years 1883-1884:

Colonel McComas, of the first regiment, says: "In going into camp we had no difficulty in procuring all needful supplies, and great credit is due to the Quartermaster General for this accomplishment."

In the same report Colonel Brown, of the third regiment, says: "The Quartermaster General's department is in capable hands."

General Withington says: "The Quartermaster General had previously reached the grounds with his stores, and the work of preparation in his hands was well advanced. Officers and working parties from the several regiments were on the grounds by Tuesday and some of them Monday. The camp was established without hurry, confusion, or discomfort. I shall be sustained by the whole command in expressing thanks to the State Military Board for the liberal provision made for the wants of the troops, and to Brigadier General Shakespeare, Quartermaster General, for the thorough and effective manner in which his department, upon which so much depends, was handled."

General John Robertson, in general order No. 16, A. D. 1884, says: "He recognizes the great improvement in all the arrangements of the camp, a result of the ability, energy, and faithful services of Quartermaster General Shakespeare, aided by the considerate and judicious liberality of the State Military Board."

Colonel McComas says: "My regiment was in camp and ready for duty on the morning of the 7th. This was a pleasant task, owing to the complete arrangements made by the Quartermaster General's department for the transportation and reception of the troops."

General I. C. Smith says, in referring to the encampment of 1884: "Through the hearty co-operation of General Shakespeare and General Hutchinson, my labor was made lighter and the complete success of the encampment assured."

Captain F. E. Lacey, U. S. army inspecting officer, says: "The work done by the staff officers, especially the Quartermaster General, with such little help, was wonderful."

Captain S. H. Lincoln, U. S. inspecting officer, says: "The officers of the department staff * * * Inspector General, Quartermaster General, and Assistant Quartermaster General, are experienced and practical soldiers, who are doing all in their power to increase the efficiency of the State militia."

Such are a few quotations of the opinions entertained by General Shakespeare's brother officers in regard to his executive ability, and efficiency in the management of the affairs of his department.

With regard to the several matters of extravagance further urged against Gen. Shakespeare in the management of the Quartermaster General's Department, characterized as "grave irregularities and extravagances," and more specifically enumerated—

First, As that "Gen. Shakespeare received a large sum of money from Josiah W. Begole, to wit: $31,759.45, that did not belong to the military department, but was the legitimate property of the State," we think that said money did legitimately belong to the military department, in that it was a payment of a claim of the State for ordnance and stores, issued to the Michigan volunteers by the Quartermaster General of this State; which ordnance and stores the State had received, before the rebellion, from the ordnance department of the U. S. A., on her quota for arms under act of Congress, and was to be treated in a similar manner, and transferred to the same department fund, as if the goods had been sold by the military department to any other person or persons; the practice of the military department having invariably been to sell condemned ordnance and stores, and turn the proceeds of the same into the military fund; but be that as it may, Gen. Shakespeare is not to be condemned in any manner for turning this money into the military fund, when he received it for that purpose from Gov. Josiah W. Begole, when long established custom, and precedents invariably followed, justified and sanctioned such a course; and when he had thereto the approbation and consent of the then (and present) Secretary of State, Hon. Harry A. Conant, together with that of the Commissioner of the Land Office and Auditor General. At the end of the month Gen. Shakespeare was charged with this sum by the Auditor General as a proper item to be charged to the military department. As to the allegation of extravagance, irregularity, carelessness and neglect in the purchase of the goods, in the item last above referred to, we have entered sufficiently into the allegations, as previously charged more specifically, and we think have satisfactorily refuted the same.

Next, as to the specification condemning Gen. Shakespeare for presenting claims for extra pay for services rendered, amounting to about $1,000.00. The testimony of Gen. Shakespeare and of Adjutant General Robertson shows that the sum so paid and received was for special services rendered by Gen. Shakespeare while on special duty, under special orders issued from the Adjutant General's office; and we submit that it was a proper, legal and lawful claim; and further that it was approved by the Auditor General and State Military Board, and was in accordance with usage and custom, with precedent and the traditions of the office.

With reference to the so-called exorbitant prices paid for hacks, etc., at the State encampment, and for supplies of the headquarter's mess, Gen. Shakespeare was in no way responsible therefor, but simply carried out the instructions and orders of the Adjutant General and State Military Board; and further, the charges were not extravagant, for the number of persons messes and provided for, which was greatly in excess of the number in former years; as to the bills for drugs, etc., Gen. Shakespeare was no more responsible for the same than is this your committee, and did not have anything to do with the purchasing of the same. The first year they were purchased by Dr. Porter, Brigadier Surgeon, on the requisition of the regimental surgeons (see page 149 of the testimony), and the next year the medicines were furnished only on prescription of the regimental and brigade surgeons. All that Gen. Shakespeare had to do in the matter was to pay the bills, when audited by the State Military Board.

As to the charge that Gen. Shakespeare executed loose and indifferent contracts for the purchase of ice and the erection of ice-house, and the further statement that $413.27 was expended in the purchase of ice alone, we submit that the facts do not bear out this statement, and that the above price was paid, not for the ice alone, but for the construction of an ice-house and also for filling the same with ice, and was a less amount than the bids he received for furnishing ice alone. This compares favorably with the prices paid for ice by his predecessors in office. For proof of the above we refer to files and papers produced during this investigation and to the testimony of Gen. Shakespeare. We regard Gen. Shakespeare as having acted with wisdom and economically in that matter, and with a view to effecting a saving to the State in the future. We submit that nothing has been adduced in said majority report, as a matter of fact, and proved by testimony of witnesses, or by documentary or other evidence, that could in any manner impugn the honesty or detract from the ability and efficiency with which Gen. Shakespeare managed his department.

We have submitted extracts showing the high regard entertained for Gen. Shakespeare's ability and eminent services in behalf of the State militia, by his associate officers and contemporaries in official position, who endorsed and approved and directed his official acts. There is but one voice among the then State officers and others who knew him in his official capacity, as to his honesty, integrity, faithfulness, and efficiency as a public servant. We believe that the public at large and the troops of this State in whose welfare and advancement he has taken such an intelligent and helpful interest, and with whom he has had such cordial relations, will voice the same sentiment to a man. When we consider the increased business of the office of Quartermaster General, and the fact that the amount expended under Gen. Shakespeare's administration did not exceed the amount appropriated and expended under former administrations, as appears from the books in the Q. M. G.'s office (with the exception however, of the amount expended by order of the State military board for cloths, trimmings, blankets, etc., and other permanent improvements demanded by the exigencies of the service), we cannot but conclude that he is well deserving of praise, instead of the unmerited blame and slurs cast upon him. The breath of calumny will not tarnish the fair mirror of his reputation, but will vanish into thin air, and

"Like an insubstantial pageant faded,
Leave not a rack behind."

In conclusion, we would say that the spirit and temper manifested by the majority of your committee, in conducting this investigation, savor more of the harsh and tyrannical proceedings familiar to the forms of a despotical and arbitrary government, than to the fair, free and open conduct of such affairs customary under a popular government. They seem to have proceeded under the theory or assumption of the guilt of the party or parties under investigation, and to have conducted said investigation with the view to substantiate the theory assumed by them. In confirmation of this view of the case, we refer to the fact that the condemnatory report of the majority was made out without notifying or consulting the minority; that the conclusions drawn in said report are not justified or sustained by the testimony or evidence offered, but are assumed in order to confirm a foregone conclusion and "a priori" theory; that many witnesses were examined in the absence of the minority of the committee, and without giving to the minority or Gen. Shakespeare any notice of said examination, or opportunity to cross-examine or rebut the testimony of important witnesses, testifying to material facts; that important testimony favorable to Gen. Shakespeare is ignored or passed over without comment, while any testimony that might bear an unfavorable construction is dwelt upon at length and greatly magnified in importance, as well as distorted and misstated; and that witnesses important to the person under investigation, with material testimony to offer, and who were easily accessible, and who were requested to be summoned to appear before said committee by Gen. Shakespeare, were never called before said committee or summoned so to appear in pursuance of said request; in evidence of which we offer the following extract from the testimony taken during said investigation, which appears on page 171, and reads as follows:

"By Mr. Atkinson: I make this proposition to the committee, assuming that the committee desire to get at the true facts regarding all the expenditures for the encampments of 1883 and 1884 of State troops, we ask you to call the following witnesses: Brigadier General W. H. Withington, Col. Eugene Robinson, Col. D. H. McComas, Col. John D. Sumner, Col. Joseph Herkner, Dr. Phil Porter, Dr. H. R. Mills, Gen. John Robertson, Maj. August Goebel, and Dr. J. B. Book."

"Gen. Withington was consulted in regard to the encampment, so were each of the regimental commanders above named, and their suggestions were followed by the military board. The changes were made under their advice and certainly increased the efficiency of the encampment as an educator of the State troops. Gen. John Robertson, who had served the State over twenty years as Adjutant General, issued all the special orders under which the Quartermaster General acted, and by his advice the expenditures were made. If your committee desire information he is an important witness. Drs. Phil Porter, H. R. Mills, and J. B. Book know very much regarding the requisitions for drugs and their uses, and these gentlemen can show you that all such were called for and used for medicine only upon regular requisitions by the surgeons of the State militia referred to in the charges. These drugs include all the liquors. We ask you to avail yourselves of the information they can give you. All the gentlemen named can inform you regarding the improved condition of the State troops and the necessity for the expenditures for ice, stables, tent, and other matters which appear to be subject to criticism. Also in regard to the propriety of allowances to Gen. Robertson and others while on special duty, They can also satisfy you regarding the purchase of the cloth and the urgent necessity for it as soon as the funds authorized it. Auditor General W. C. Stevens can advise you concerning the accounts of Gen. Robertson and others for pay while on special duty. The Adjutant General is the exclusive judge of the necessity for a special order, under the commander-in-chief, and the Auditor General the exclusive judge of the legality of all charges under it. Both of those gentlemen approved Gen. Shakespeare's course, and their evidence should readily satisfy your committee that the expenditures were proper and just."

We have merely to add that, with the exception of Col. Sumner and Gen.

Robertson, and with such full and ample opportunity to elicit the true facts in the case, none of the witnesses called for in the above extract were summoned to appear before your committee. Finally, the proceedings of the committee were, in a great measure, one sided, conducted in a harsh and arbitrary manner, and with the intent to embarrass witnesses favorable to the accused, and involve them in contradictions, and afforded no fair opportunity to the accused to justify or vindicate himself.

We further submit that all of the conclusions condemning Gen. Shakespeare are totally unwarranted, and without any foundation whatever in fact, and are not borne out or substantiated by the testimony and evidence in the case, or files, records, or documents used as evidence therein, but exist only in the fertile and prolific imaginations of the majority of your committee.

And we further submit that a gross wrong and flagrant piece of injustice has been done to an honorable and efficient officer of the State, to wit.: General William Shakespeare, by said majority of your committee, in submitting their report; and we fully absolve him of all blame or censure of any nature whatsoever, thinking that he is worthy only of praise for his official transactions in the service of the State. And in view of the facts above recited in the premises, we respectfully recommend that the testimony, evidence, files, papers, and records used in this investigation, be printed in pamphlet form, by authority of the State, for distribution, to enable the public to form a fair and impartial judgment of the reports submitted in this case.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

PETITIONS.

No. 781. By Mr. Shoemaker: Petition of H. D. Allen and 94 others, including merchants, mechanics, farmers, and other citizens of Jackson county, for the passage of Senate bill No. 332 (File No. 226), entitled "A bill to regulate the freight tariff, to provide for a uniform classification of freight and maximum freight rates, and to prevent unjust discrimination in charges for freight," known as the "Shoemaker bill," and giving their reasons therefor.

On motion of Mr. Shoemaker,

The petition was ordered printed in the Journal.

The following is the petition:

To the Honorable Legislature of the State of Michigan.

We, the undersigned, citizens of the State of Michigan, earnestly request and urge the passage of the "Shoemaker freight bill" so called, and present as especial reasons for the necessity thereof, in addition to the considerations recited in said bill, the following:

1. Under the system of discrimination now employed by railroad companies, the smaller towns not enjoying competing privileges are not only compelled to pay as high freights as towns having competing lines and situated on the same line of railroad and further from the place of shipment; but are frequently required to pay as heavy rates for twenty or thirty miles of carriage over non-competing lines as over several hundred miles of road between competing lines

2. Freights to the extent of thousands of dollars are each year paid unjustly by the trade in small towns without competing privileges, and thus the business of such smaller towns is paralyzed.

3. Such excessive freight discriminations against the towns not having competing lines are not originated for the benefit of the railroad companies exclusively, but are, under the present system of cutting rates, necessarily indulged in to a large extent in order to enable the railroad companies to earn back from the towns without competing privileges the freights made too low at competing points by means of competition.

4. The dealers in the large centers are naturally selfishly interested in maintaining the present discriminating system. Being blessed with abundant competition, they, by means of the reduced rates given them, are enabled to control and crush out the trade of the local points not favored with competing privileges.

5. The present system of discrimination in freight rates thus inevitably tends to the building up of the industries of towns having competing lines at the expense and ruin of towns not so favored.

6. The advantages for trade and privileges naturally enjoyed by the larger towns and those having competing lines, without unjust discrimination in freight rates, are large enough to amply protect legitimate business enterprise. But the present system of discrimination simply builds up monopolies, and crushes legitimate trade and industry everywhere except in the favored centers.

PRESENTATION.

The President called Mr. Brown to the chair.

Mr. S. W. Smith said :

MR. CHAIRMAN—We have reached the closing hours of Senatorial labor, when by mutual consent formal rules are suspended and our utterances are breathed in freedom's air. In the enjoyment of this liberty I meet a pleasant and delightful duty. In the performance of my trust the extremes of years and experience meet. Youth bows to age, and maturing manhood, full of hope and vigor, pays a tribute of homage and respect to declining years. Association is time's crucible in which is purified and made valuable the ties of friendship.

Senator Brown, something over five months ago we met as strangers. Your white crown and your eloquent words made you prominent among us and our eyes turned involuntarily to you for counsel and advice.

Now that the hour of parting by Legislative limitation is so near at hand, we desire to more than bid you farewell, to leave with you a token of our regard, a golden staff of remembrance upon which you can lean as you pass down life's decline.

The token in its intrinsic value is the gift of one whose wish is that all shall share in the pleasant memories it will ever bring to you.

Now, dear old associate, in parting I echo the heartfelt wish of the entire Senate for your health and happiness, as you go down the decline which is steepest at the last, and to feel assured that the friends made here in faith and kindness will be present to sustain and support you.

Mr. Brown responded in a very able and feeling manner.

Upon the filing of such application, the commissioner authorized to act thereon shall, as soon as practicable thereafter, proceed to personally examine the route of the proposed drain, and if, in his opinion, it is necessary and conducive to the public health, convenience, or welfare, that the application should be granted, he shall, as a means of determining the practicability thereof, make a survey and measurement of the line of the proposed drain, or cause the same to be made by a competent surveyor. If upon such survey, he shall find such drain to be practicable, he shall make his order of determination in writing in accordance therewith, and shall establish the commencement, route, and terminus of said drain, and the width, length, and depth thereof, and shall set survey or grade stakes, not more than ten rods apart. For such purpose he shall have the right to enter upon any lands traversed by the route of the proposed drain, or otherwise connected with the purpose of the proceeding. In locating such drain the commissioner shall not be limited or confined to the precise starting point, route, or terminus set forth in the application. The record or minutes of the survey shall show the line and route of the drain, and the width of surface excavation that will be required in its construction, and shall also show by tracing on either side, and by words or letters and figures, the width of ground that will be required for the deposition of earth, and every release of right of way shall be deemed to include the extreme width thus shown.

7. By substituting the following for section 5, chapter III:

SEC. 5. If within twenty days after the making of such order of determination, as provided in section 4 of this chapter, all the persons through whose lands the proposed drain is to pass shall not have executed a release of right of way and all damages on account thereof, the commissioner shall, as soon as practicable, make application to the probate court of the county in which such lands are situated, for the appointment of three special commissioners, who shall be resident freeholders of the county, to determine the necessity for such drain, and for the taking of private property for the use and benefit of the public for the purpose thereof, and the just compensation to be made therefor. Such application shall be in writing and shall set forth:

First, The fact that an application for a drain was made, and when, describing the drain, and also giving the route and dimensions thereof, according to the application and survey;

Second, That an order determining the necessity for the drain was made by the commissioner, giving the time when the order was made;

Third, The names of the persons, if known, who have not released right of way and damages, the description or descriptions of land owned by each such person that will be affected by the drain, and the descriptions of land owned by non-resident or unknown persons, and the fact that they have each and all neglected or refused to execute release of right of way and damages.

8. By substituting the following for section 6, chapter III:

SEC. 6. The court to whom such application is made, shall make an examination at the time of such application of all the proceedings of the commissioner so far as had, and if such proceedings be found to be in accordance with the statute, such court shall at once appoint a time and place of hearing upon the application, which time shall be fixed not less than thirty nor more than forty days thereafter, and the court shall issue a citation to all persons whose lands are traversed by such drain, or who will be liable to assessment for benefits in the construction thereof, and who have not released right of way and all damages on account thereof, to appear at the time and place designated in said citation, and be heard with respect to such application, if they so desire, and show cause, if any there be, why said application should not be granted.

9. By substituting the following for section 7, chapter III:

SEC. 7. The citation shall recite so much of the premises as will show jurisdiction, and in the case of resident owners, shall be addressed to such owners by name; in the case of non-resident owners, it shall be addressed to the owner or owners of the several descriptions of land involved. It shall describe the drain by its commencement, terminus, and general course, and shall set forth that lands owned by the persons to whom it is addressed will be crossed by such drain, or will be subject to assessment for its construction, and that a description and survey of such drain is on file with the court issuing the citation. Such citation shall be personally served by the commissioner, or some other competent person, upon every person whose lands are traversed by such drain, or who will be liable to assessment for benefits in the construction thereof and who has not released the right of way and all damages on account thereof, and who is known and resides within the township or townships in which any such lands are situated, by delivering to him a copy thereof, or by leaving the same at his residence with some person of suitable age and discretion, who shall be informed of its contents. In all cases of personal service, at least ten days shall intervene between the day of service and the day of hearing, and the court issuing such citation shall require proof of such service by affidavit, showing the time, place, and manner of such service. Citations shall be served upon townships by leaving a copy thereof with the supervisor, or at his residence; upon cities, by leaving a copy thereof with the mayor or clerk; upon the State, by leaving a copy thereof with the prosecuting attorney of the county in which such lands are situated; upon railroad companies by leaving a copy thereof with the agent of any ticket or freight office of the company operating such railroad; and upon other private corporations, by serving the same upon the officer or person designated by law in cases of civil process. If any lands involved be non-resident, a copy of the citation so far as it effects such lands shall be published in some newspaper published and circulating in the county in which such lands are located or at least two weeks previous to the day of hearing, which publication shall be deemed to be sufficient notice to all non-resident parties interested in such drain. The first publication of such notice shall be at least fourteen full days before the day of hearing, and proof of its publication shall be made as above provided in case of personal service.

10. By substituting the following for section 8, chapter III:

SEC. 8. The court to whom such application is made shall at the time and place fixed in the citation, or at any time to which it may adjourn, and upon proof of service and publication where required, proceed to hear all persons whose estate or interests are to be affected by the proceedings, and such persons may show cause against the prayer set forth in the application, and may disprove any of the facts alleged therein, and said court shall hear the proofs and allegations of the parties, and if no sufficient cause is shown against granting the prayer set forth in said application, said court shall make an order appointing three disinterested and competent resident freeholders as special commissioners to ascertain and determine the necessity for such drain, and to appraise and determine the damages or compensation to be allowed to the owners or parties interested in the real estate proposed to be taken for the right of way of such drain. Such court shall, immediately upon the appointment of such commissioners, and with the concurrence of the drain commissioner, appoint a time and place (such time to be not less than five nor more than fifteen days thereafter), at which such special commissioners shall meet the drain commissioner and other parties in interest, to consider of the matters and things with respect to which they have been appointed, and said court shall make public announcement thereof, and thereupon the proceeding shall be deemed a continuing proceeding, and no further notice of the time and place of hearing shall be required and such appointment and announcement shall be made a part of the record in the case: Provided, That any one person whose estate or interest is to be affected by the proceedings may demand and have from such court at the time of hearing of said application, a jury of twelve freeholders of said county to ascertain and determine the necessity for taking or using such lands, and to appraise and determine the damages and compensation to be allowed therefor. The demand of any one of the parties interested for a jury shall be deemed to be a demand for all, and if no jury be demanded on the part of any person interested in said proceedings before the appointment of special commissioners shall be made by such court, his or her right to the same shall be deemed to have been waived. Whenever such demand for such jury shall have been made, the court shall proceed in the same manner as is provided by law in case a jury is demanded for taking private property for the use of railroad companies, and all further proceedings in the matter had by such court and jury shall be in conformity with the provisions of law, as aforesaid, so far as the same shall apply: Provided, That when such jury shall have made their report, and the same shall have been confirmed by such court, a certified copy of such order of confirmation shall be furnished by the court to the drain commissioner.

11. By substituting the following for section 9, chapter III:

SEC. 9. If no demand for a jury shall be made, and the court shall have granted the prayer set forth in the application, such court shall proceed to deliver to the drain commissioner a copy of the order appointing the special commissioners, and the drain commissioner shall notify such special commissioners of their appointment, and of the time and place they are required to meet with him, and with the other parties in interest. They shall be sworn to faithfully discharge the duties of special commissioners in the matter in which they are called to act, and to well and truly determine the necessity of such drain, and of the taking of private property for the use and benefit of the public for the purpose thereof, and the just compensation to be paid therefor. The said commissioners, with the drain commissioner and other parties in interest, who may be present, shall meet at the time and place ordered by said court, and proceed at that time, or at any time to which they may adjourn, to view said premises, and for such purpose they shall have the right to enter upon any lands traversed by the route of the proposed drain.

Upon the release of right of way and damages, or upon the determination and return of the special commissioners, or the order of the probate court, as the case may be, the drain commissioner shall make his final order establishing the drain, and shall give the same the name by which it shall be known and recorded. He shall also, without delay, proceed to divide the route thereof into convenient sections, for the letting of the work, and shall mark the grade on each stake, from stake to stake, along the whole length of such drain. He shall also mark on each stake the number of each section or division from the lower end, and the length in feet or rods which each section contains, and shall make a diagram corresponding with the divisions as made, and shall file the same with the other papers pertaining to such drain. He shall give not less than ten days' notice of the time and place of letting, by posting notices thereof in five or more public places in each township traversed by such drain, and by causing a notice thereof to be published not less than two insertions in one or more weekly newspapers published and of general circulation in the county. Such notice shall also state that at the time of such letting, or at such other times or places as the commissioner may designate (which time may be before or after such letting), the assessment of benefits will be subject to review. On such review the commissioner of highways of any township may appear on behalf of such township. At such review the commissioner shall hear the proofs and allegations of all parties in interest,

The President also announced the following message:

EXECUTIVE OFFICE, MICHIGAN, }
Lansing, June 12, 1885. }

To the Senate:

At the session of the Legislature held in 1879, there was enacted a law known as Act No. 250, Laws of 1879, entitled, "An act to establish a separate school for the blind," approved May 31, 1879. Under the provisions of this act, the Executive appointed three commissioners to act with him in selecting a suitable site and erecting thereon buildings for said school for the blind and putting the same into operation (see Sec. 2 of said Act 250, Laws of 1879). By Sec. 11 of said act it was also provided that when said institution should be completed and ready for the reception of pupils, said commissioners should certify that fact to the Governor, who should give public notice of the completion of the buildings, and that pupils would be received at the school. As a matter of fact which is doubtless known to you all, the exigencies of the case made it necessary that pupils should be received long before the school was finished, and therefore the institution has, up to the present time, been under the management of the original board appointed to establish it. The institution is now practically completed, and I have been formally notified to that effect. Therefore, in pursuance of Sec. 13 of said Act No. 250 of the Laws of 1879, I hereby nominate the following Board of Control of the School for the Blind: For six years—Townsend North, of Vassar, Tuscola county; for four years—Thomas S. Applegate, of Adrian, Lenawee county; for two years—James M. Turner, of Lansing, Ingham county: the terms of said Board of Control to date from the last day of the session of the Legislature of 1885.
